High School Youngsters Don't Dig SDS's Message

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Students for a Democratic Society is trying to recruit converts to its doctrine of social revolution among high school pupils, but the evidence indicates that the youngsters aren't digging the message.

A nationwide survey by The Associated Press showed the SDS, a leading force in many major disruptions of college campuses, has become active in only a handful of high schools and that, so far, its impact has been minimal.

One spokesman for SDS, Tom Raredon, a student at Ohio State University, denied that the organization is even attempting to influence high school pupils, and said it has no plans to do so.

Admits Attempts

But a fellow member, Tom Buttny of the University of Colorado, insisted that SDS is trying to move into the high schools, and reports from across the country tend to bear him out.

Cities as widespread as Los Angeles, Denver, Boston and Columbus, Ohio, report overt activity by the SDS on high school campuses. At the same time, authorities in Atlanta, Philadelphia, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Des Moines, Chicago and Milwaukee say the militant leftist organization hasn't surfaced among the high school crowd.

In Los Angeles, Police Chief

Tom Reddin said his department has discovered a link between SDS and the Peking-oriented Progressive Labor Party which, he says, has enlisted support among the students of Fremont High School.

Imposed On Them

At one school, students fought with SDS representatives and tore up their leaflets. Police broke up the other demonstration.

Buttny, the SDS leader at the University of Colorado, said his organization erred in trying to impose itself on the high school students instead of working with them. "This never works," he said.

Dan Kaplan, past SDS chairman at Indiana University, said high school students have shown up at meetings, but there appears to be little, if any, effect to organize them. "We have given them literature and such things," said Kaplan, "but they have not been organized on the scope of students elsewhere."

Techniques

Dr. B. Frank Brown, superintendent of schools in Brevard County, Fla., pointed out that the student left includes organizations other than SDS, all agitating for change, but without central direction.

Techniques for taking over a high school, include starting an underground newspaper, said Brown, who claimed more than 500 such newspapers already were being circulated in high schools.

"The intent is to proliferate grounds for complaints among students," Brown said in a speech to the Education Writers Association.

"High schools should be prepared for an excruciating experience."

Pentagon To Order More F111As

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is preparing to ask Congress for money to buy at least 60 more models of the F111 fighter-bomber which has just suffered its 13th crash in 26 months, sources report.

The move is interpreted by Air Force officers and other officials intimately associated with F111 production as the Nixon administration's vote of confidence in the controversial aircraft.

Barring last minute budgetary revisions, about $500 million for the F111 program will go into the proposed fiscal 1970 defense budget expected to be forwarded soon to Capitol Hill.

The new buy will bring planned production of the super-sonic F111 to around 400 planes. General Dynamics is already signed to turn out 331. And the Air Force may seek later this year to go far beyond 400.

Subject To Review

Like other major weapons systems, the F111 project in recent days has been subjected to an extensive review by the new Pentagon team of Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird.

Air Force sources expect the F111 program to emerge largely intact from this dollar-cutting re-examination of defense programs inherited by the Republican administration from the outgoing Democrats.

Officials say the review has dealt with "cost-effective" questions about the plane rather than any technical problems which have been encountered.

The F111 accident rate and soaring cost problems have stirred criticism in Congress where Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., first secretary of the Air Force, is on record as calling for an investigation of the program and possibly its cancellation.

Latest Crash

On Tuesday an F111A crashed near Nellis Air Force Base, Las Vegas, Nev., the 13th loss since January 1967. Cause was undetermined, but officers in Washington said the mishap would not affect the F111's future.

"If accidents made programs go under, we'd never have any aircraft," one officer commented.

Both the Air Force and General Dynamics contend that the F111 has experienced a lower accident rate per flying hour than any supersonic fighter-bomber ever produced by the United States.

The F4 Phantom, regarded as the next-best thing to the F111 and currently in use in Vietnam, had 13 crashes after a cumulative total of 21,000 hours flying time. The 13th F111 crash occurred at 25,000 flying hours. The F105 Thunderchief had a worse record than the F4.

Six of the 13 F111 crashes remain officially unsolved. The Air Force says four occurred due to pilot error. Three others were attributed to mechanical causes.

Autobahn Closed

West Germany Elects Socialist

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany closed the main autobahn between West Berlin and East Germany again today for the sixth day in a row. West Berlin border officers reported, even though the election of the West German president in Berlin was over.

A West Berlin customs officer said one lane at the West Berlin end had been left open, apparently for vehicles of the U.S. British and French garrisons, but it was not known if any had gone through.

The East Germans could be trying to give credence to their claim that periodic closing of the autobahn is necessary because of Warsaw Pact maneuvers in the area.

Meanwhile, West Berliners and others were asking why the Communists hadn't done more to interfere with the uneventful presidential election.

No Sonic Boom

There were no sonic booms from East German MIGs over the West Berlin hall in which the Federal Assembly elected Gustav Heinemann, a 69-year-old Socialist. There was no barrage of propaganda leaflets, no buzzing of Western airliners en route to Berlin and not even the massive demonstrations threatened by West Berlin's militant New Left.

Instead, after weeks of Communist warnings that the election could not be held in Berlin without "grave measures" of reprisal, the East Germans closed the roads between the city and West Germany while 1,021 members of the West German Federal Assembly elected Heinemann to be president for the next five years.

First the Communists closed both ends of the most-traveled autobahn to the West for three hours, until U.S. and British military convoys appeared to make the trip.

No Tamperings

Then for four hours in the afternoon they closed all roads in and out West Berlin, held up traffic to the city caught inside East Germany, and slowed up the processing of cars and trucks at the West German border.

It was the most serious infringement on Berlin access routes in years. But there was no report of any tampering with the air corridors used by the presidential electors to go to and from the city. That would have brought an immediate confrontation between the Russians and the Americans, British and French.

Water Given To Trapped Miner

LARK, Utah (AP) — Rescue workers drilled through some 35 feet of rock today and delivered water to a miner trapped nearly five days inside a zinc-lead mine in Northern Utah.

Bill Hawes, one of the rescue workers, said they had given William "Buck" Jones several two-ounce shots of water and hoped to get food to him soon, including bullion, eggnog, coffee and cereal.

"Man that tastes good," Jones told the workers after receiving his second drink of water.

Hawes said a light and water in tubes were pushed through the small opening made with a diamond bit.

Hawes said Jones was helping rescue workers by describing his enclosure now that he had some light.

John Bordon, another rescue worker, said Jones was using a wooden pick handle and a part of a drill he had with him to prop up the ceiling and walls of his enclosure to prevent further cave-ins.

Ferris Prexy's Ouster Urged

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—The ouster of President Victor Spathelf of Ferris State College, where racial violence among black and white students has been boiling for the past week, was urged today by a regional field director of the NAACP.

Syd C. Finley of Chicago said Spathelf "would do everyone concerned a big favor by resigning. He has no conception at all of human relations on a simple and basic level."

"Certainly the remarks that I heard him utter and press releases that he has made indicate that he isn't in the present day," Finley charged. He said Spathelf "seems to be about 20 years outdated."

Spathelf was not immediately available for comment.

Meanwhile, the Justice Department has sent an investigator to the college to look into racial problems.

About 200 white students, calling themselves "Interested Students Society," today passed out leaflets in what they said was an "empathy demonstration" in favor of Negro students.

Finley said the NAACP is ex-

453 Yanks Die In Week; 2,593 More Wounded

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. South Vietnamese and enemy casualties jumped to their highest level since last May during the first week of the Viet Cong's current spring offensive, the allied commands announced today.

The U.S. Command said 453 Americans were killed last week and 2,593 were wounded, with 1,051 of the latter hospitalized. The number of dead was nearly triple the previously weekly average for 1969 and was the highest American toll since the week of May 12-18, 1968, when 549 were killed and 2,282 were wounded during another big enemy offensive.

6,752 Reds Die

The Saigon government reported 521 of its men killed, while the allied commands said at least 6,752 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese died in the first seven days of the enemy's new drive on South Vietnamese towns and allied military installations.

The U.S. Command said the weekly casualty report raised the total number of Americans killed in combat in Vietnam to 32,376, including 9,425 since preliminary peace talks began in Paris last May 13. Of the latter number, 2,319 died after South Vietnam agreed on Dec. 7 to join the talks.

208 Civilians Die

U.S. headquarters said at least 457,132 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been killed since Jan. 1, 1961, when the United States entered the war.

The South Vietnamese government also reported 208 civilians killed and 677 wounded during the first seven days of the enemy offensive last week. The toll continued to rise today as Saigon was hit by the most devastating shelling in the offensive so far. Heavy rockets smashed into a densely populated slum, killing at least 25 civilians and wounding more than 70. Most of the dead were children.

Nixon Warns

The rocket barrage crashed in less than 24 hours after President Nixon warned that the United States would not tolerate the continuation of such attacks. However, the shelling was not believed to be a reply to that warning because the enemy's communications facilities are not thought to be efficient enough to arrange such a quick reaction.

It was the fourth rocket attack on Saigon since the Viet Cong offensive began Feb. 25.

Informed sources said the U.S. Air Force and Navy had a variety of plans ready for retaliation and could resume the bombing of North Vietnam in less than 24 hours if Nixon told them to. But the President indicated Tuesday night he would make no decision until he got a report from Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, due in Saigon later today.

Rocket Assault

Seven 100-pound Russian rockets hit the city and three of the six-foot missiles did the devastation.

They landed in the Fourth Precinct, an area of teeming slums and warehouses just south of a river. Sixteen persons were killed by two of the rockets that fell about 100 yards apart in a thickly populated section of wood and tin shanties.

Three others were killed by another rocket that crashed through two floors of their house a few blocks away, and not far

Cancel Space Walk Testing Back Pack

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Russell L. Schweickart transferred into their lunar module (LEM) for the second straight day today as the Apollo 9 astronauts prepared to open the hatches of both spaceships to brave the vacuum of outer space in pressure suits.

But there will be no space walk from one ship to the other because of illness suffered Wednesday by Schweickart, who was considerably better today.

Air Force Col. David R. Scott may poke his head and shoulders out of the command ship hatch to try to retrieve a thermal patch that Schweickart was to have snatched while outside. The patch was fastened to Apollo 9 before launching to test effects of heat and engine firings on various materials.

Open Hatches

When the hatches open McDivitt and Scott are to be plugged into support systems of their respective ships. Schweickart wears a life-sustaining back pack that will protect astronauts on the moon.

Schweickart and Air Force Col. McDivitt moved through a connecting tunnel from the command ship to the LEM and reved up the systems of the spidery craft which they hope to qualify to land two astronauts on the moon in July.

The LEM performed flawlessly Wednesday, the first time the odd-looking vehicle had been operated in space by man. It receives its most critical test Friday when McDivitt and Schweickart separate it, fly more than 100 miles away and then seek out Scott and the command ship in a celestial game of hide and seek.

Schweickart showed no signs today of the nausea that struck him Wednesday. But because of the possibility of a recurrence, there was no plan to reinstate the cancelled space walk.

Schweickart had two vomiting attacks early Wednesday. He later skipped lunch and said he did not feel up to par.

Use Railings

The rookie spaceman had planned to leave the hatch of the lunar module and move on Apollo 9 before committing men to a lunar landing.

Christopher C. Kraft Jr., director of flight operations, said the space walk was not essential to a moon landing.

The purpose of assigning it to Schweickart was to demonstrate that man can transfer from the LEM to the command ship in case of an emergency.

Separate

Kraft said it was more important to have the crew rested for a critical rendezvous and docking Friday.

McDivitt and Schweickart are to separate the LEM, fly 109 miles away and then seek out Scott in the command ship. They will thus maneuver like the two astronauts who will launch themselves from the moon to rejoin the mother ship in lunar orbit.

Their overnight rest period lasted nearly 10 hours until mission control roused the astronauts a few minutes before 6 a.m. EST to start another work day.

Still Dark Out

"This comes mighty early, doesn't it?" a ground communicator remarked by way of greeting.

"Yeah—it's still dark outside, too," rejoined one of the astronauts, who at that point was passing over the mercury ship tracking station in the South Pacific.

Doctors were puzzled over Schweickart's nausea. He is an experienced pilot. But they said he had a history of a nervous stomach and that he had taken motion sickness pills before and after the launching.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief astronaut physician, prescribed other pills to quiet his intestinal hand-over-hand on railings to enter the hatch of the command module, joining Scott. After a brief rest, he was to have re-joined McDivitt in the still-attached LEM.

Schweickart's suit and back pack are identical to those astronauts will wear on the moon, and officials want to test them

Arrest Woman For Kidnaping

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Honduras-born Ruth Eismann-Schier, the only woman ever to appear on the FBI's list of 10 most-wanted criminals, faces arraignment today on a charge of taking part in a Georgia kidnaping in which a college coed was buried alive.

Petite, 26-year-old Miss Schier was arrested Wednesday in nearby Norman as she worked as a car hop at a drive-in restaurant.

In Oklahoma City, U.S. Commissioner James Bullett set bail at $500,000 and continued the proceedings until 1:30 p.m. today after Miss Schier asked for a court-appointed attorney.

Miss Schier and Steven Krist, 23, are charged with the abduction of Barbara Jane Mackle from a Decatur, Ga., motel last Dec. 17.

Krist was captured last Dec. 22 after a widespread manhunt near Punta Gorda, Fla.

Miss Schier, known in Norman as Donna Wills, was arrested after she applied for a job as a nurse at Central State Hospital in Norman. A worker in the Oklahoma Bureau of Investigation's fingerprint division identified the fingerprints on her job application.

FBI agents converged on the restaurant and arrested the girl as she walked from the car hop section to greet a new-found boy friend, Clonnie Fox.

Fr. Louis Cappel, pastor of Sacred Heart, L'Anse, will come to St. Anne's in Escanaba to succeed Father Mayrand.

Other changes include:

Fr. Thomas Andary, from St. Ann, Menominee, to Sacred Heart, L'Anse.

Fr. Roland Dion, from Immaculate Conception, Wakefield, to St. Ann, Menominee.

Msgr. Robert Chisholm, from St. John's, Menominee, to Immaculate Conception, Wakefield.

Fr. Paul Schiska, from Our Lady of Lourdes, Engadine to co-pastor, St. John's Marquette.

Fr. Donald Hartman, from St. Andrew's, Nahma, to Lourdes, Engadine and its missions.

Fr. Ephraem Sitko, from assistant, St. Paul the Apostle, Calumet, to pastor, St. Andrew's, Nahma, and missions.

Sitko To Nahma

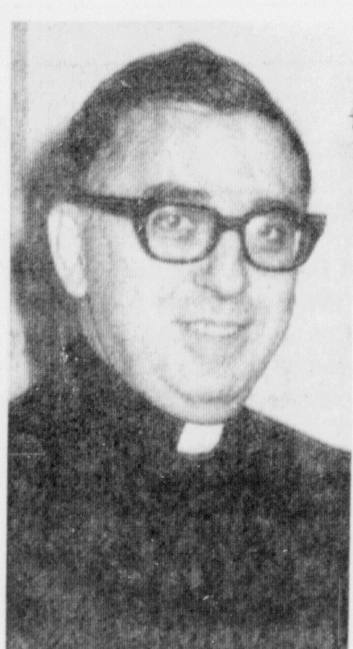

This is a first pastorate for Father Sitko, although he was acting administrator of St. Adalbert's, Menominee for a time. Ordained in Green Bay in 1946, Father Sitko served as a missionary in Toledo and Canton, Minn., as assistant at St. James in Grand Rapids and St. Mary's in Green Bay, instructor, chaplain and athletic director at Holy Family Institute, Ensworth, Pa., and chaplain at St. Mary's Hospital, Grand Rapids, before coming to the U.P.

A Detroit native, Father Sitko came to the diocese in 1956, assisted at St. Ambrose of Ironwood, Sacred Heart in Munising and St. Ignace, in addition to the Menominee post. He went to the Calumet assignment when the parishes were consolidated there in 1966.

Father Mayrand has been at St. Anne's, Escanaba, since 1960. A Dover, New Hampshire native, he came to the diocese from the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, in April, 1950. He assisted at St. Joseph's, Lake Linden, until October, 1955; at St. Michael's, Marquette until June 12, 1957, when he was given his first pastorate, at St. Edward, Alpha. That winter he moved to Engadine as pastor, and to St. Anne's, Oct. 1, 1960. He is the president of the Delta County Clergy Association.

Cappel To Escanaba

Father Cappel was assigned to L'Anse in July. Born in Baltic, he was ordained in 1946, assisted briefly in Ishpeming, was chaplain to St. Joseph Hospital, Hancock, assisted in St. Ignace, Escanaba (St. Anne), and Wakefield, before being named pastor of Christ the King parish, Ramsay, April 17, 1952. He moved to St. Cecilia, Hubbell, in June, 1965.

Active in and noted for economic development endeavors, he is chairman of the Community Affairs Committee of the diocese, has worked with several state and regional programs, including UPCAP.

Father Andary, Sault Ste. Marie native, has been at St. Ann's, Menominee, since June, 1967. He was ordained in 1941, assisted in Marquette (St. Peter's Cathedral), Iron Mountain (SS. Mary & Joseph), and Hancock.

Named administrator at Grand Maris in June, 1946, he also has served as pastor at Ramsay, Nahma, Rapid River (1951), Loretto (1957), and Flat Rock (1959).

Chisholm Transferred

Father Dion has served in Marquette, Grand Marais and Schaffer, was named pastor at Flat Rock, Nov. 27, 1946, moved to old St. Ann's of Calumet, in 1951; to St. Joseph's, Lake Linden, in 1963, and has been pastor at Wakefield since June 27, 1966.

Monsignor Chisholm, pastor at St. John's, Menominee since June 26, 1962, was a chancery officer from 1949 to 1962, was named chancellor of the diocese, Dec. 4, 1952.

He was ordained in 1944, in Rome and assisted at St. Michael's in Marquette for three years before returning to Rome as a student. Returning, he assisted at St. John's in Marquette, then was named pastor of the new parish of St. Pius X, North Lake (as well as vice-chancellor) in June, 1951.

Rouman Fights Detroit Steal

LANSING — "If Michigan voters cannot trust their government to honor its pre-election promises, neither can that government expect voters to fall twice into the same trap," says James L. Rouman, executive director of Michigan United Conservation Clubs, regarding the current urban drive to corner a bigger share of the $100 million recreation bond money made available by the electorate last Nov. 5.

Rouman says, "It's common knowledge that without MUCC's support the recreation bond issue would have failed. We promoted the issue after assurances of a 70-30 split: $40.8 million for improving and expanding state parks, $17.7 million for fisheries, $4 million for forest campgrounds, $7.5 million for wildlife, and the remaining $30 million for local government recreation grants. This is what the voters thought they were getting."

"But now," Rouman states, "Detroit's Mayor Jerome Cavanagh has joined other groups, some who even opposed the recreation bond issue, asking $80 million for urban grants, and only $20 million for statewide recreational improvement. He forgets, perhaps, that Wayne County voted against the bond issue."

Rouman, in a Jan. 7 letter to Governor Romney, said, "MUCC members, many of whom come from large urban communities, understand and are in sympathy with the desire to improve the recreational facilities in urban areas."

"However, they cannot condone a breach of faith with the electorate. This bond issue, clearly was sold to the public and to our members on the basis of the 70-30% distribution of the bond receipts. It would appear to us a violation of the integrity of the many individuals and organizations who promoted this bond issue on its original basis."

Campus Intervention Hit

Varnum Scores Demo Speaker

Rep. Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistiquie) charged today that the Democratic leadership of the state House of Representatives has "seriously aggravated an already explosive situation" at Ferris State College.

Varnum said that House Speaker William Ryan (D-Detroit) has done "irreparable damage to relations between the Legislature and our institutions of higher learning" by sending four Democratic representatives to Ferris, in the wake of campus disorders that saw some 300 students placed under arrest after an attempted sit-in.

"We have a Committee on Colleges and Universities," Varnum pointed out, "with a subcommittee to study campus disorders, yet the Democratic speaker saw fit to bypass this subcommittee."

"Members of the Colleges and Universities Committee recently agreed, after consultation with numerous university administrators, that the worst possible thing the Legislature could do would be to send legislators onto a campus during a time of disorder."

"Speaker Ryan's unprecedented action, in circumventing a committee he himself appointed, could hardly have been intended for study purposes."

"The legislators he sent to the scene made no study; instead, they used the occasion solely to make an unfounded but highly publicized condemnation of the firm stand against disruption taken by a courageous administrator."

"President Victor F. Spathe of Ferris State is one of the few administrators willing to take such a stand."

"He has made it clear that he intends protecting the academic freedom, the right to attend classes and enter college offices, of his student body by refusing to tolerate the disruptive tactics of a relative few."

"He has pointed out that there are proper channels where grievances, whether fancied or legitimate, may be heard; and like the great majority of the people of Michigan, he believes disruption is completely unnecessary and cannot be tolerated."

"Yet in place of the vote of thanks he should have received from the Legislature, he has been subjected to accusations and insinuations, made before TV cameras by a small number of state representatives who appear to have been picked solely for the purpose of making such accusations."

"The Democratic speaker has proven himself not only to be hopelessly soft on campus hoodlumism, but also to be ready and willing to interfere in the affairs of universities and colleges for political purposes."

Beneath Ice And Water: Probe Depths In Soil Tests For Future Projects

Soil test borings in three locations in Escanaba to provide the city with information needed in planning future projects is being completed by a crew of Soil Testing Services of Green Bay. The work will cost the city $3,000.

Three projects are in the planning stage:

1—Construction of 10 finger piers at the yacht basin to increase the docking capacity, part of a continuing program of improvement that receives the financial cooperation of the Michigan Waterways Commission.

2—Replacement of the present old municipal water supply intake on the bottom of the bay eastward from Sand Point.

3—Construction of an elevated water storage tank at the north city limits, which with the new water intake would be part of water supply improvement to cost an estimated $2.1 million.

Today the soil test crew is at work on the ice of Little Bay de Noc east of the water station, opening holes and boring into the bottom of the bay along the location of the water intake. The intake extends out for more than 1,800 feet and into a depth of 45 feet of water.

Getting the equipment across a crack in the ice off Sand Point posed a problem until the city offered the test crew some pieces of surplus steel sheet piling to bridge the gap.

The present water intake, besides being old and its condition in doubt, is inadequate in size for the flow of water required to meet the city's growing needs.

At the yacht basin the test crew made three borings to a depth of 50 feet below lake level, an exploration necessary to determine the "holding power" of the bottom when pilings are driven for the proposed finger piers. The city would like to put in 10 piers for berthing boats if funds are available for the project. The Waterways Commission shares in the cost.

HN Drama Club To Stage 'Oliver' On Saturday

The Holy Name Drama Club will present Lionel Bart's "Oliver", March 8-11. This will be the club's third musical presentation.

The 1968-69 HN Drama Club officers are: Loretta Bonifas, president; Dan Snow, vice-president; Colleen Cannon and Fran Bartol, secretaries; and Denis McMillan, treasurer.

The club, consisting of approximately 200 members, has already presented two performances this year. First was Aristophanes, "The Birds", given in November, 1968, and second was a January Coffee House Theater consisting of four short plays which featured underclassmen.

"Oliver", is under the direction of Brother Christopher and Sister Henriette. The play will be double-cast. Tickets are available by calling 786-7550 or contacting any HN Drama Club member.

Fr. Mayrand Assigned To Menominee Church

Bishop Charles A. Salatka, D.D., announces pastoral changes for eight parishes March 18 including transfer of Fr. Stephen Mayrand from St. Anne's of Escanaba to St. John's of Menominee.

Fr. Louis Cappel, pastor of Sacred Heart, L'Anse, will come to St. Anne's in Escanaba to succeed Father Mayrand.

Other changes include: Fr. Thomas Andary, from St. Ann, Menominee, to Sacred Heart, L'Anse.

Fr. Roland Dion, from Immaculate Conception, Wakefield, to St. Ann, Menominee.

Msgr. Robert Chisholm, from St. John's, Menominee, to Immaculate Conception, Wakefield.

Fr. Paul Schiska, from Our Lady of Lourdes, Engadine, to co-pastorate, St. John's Marquette.

Fr. Donald Hartman, from St. Andrew's, Nahma, to Lourdes, Engadine and its missions.

Fr. Ephraem Sitko, from assistant, St. Paul the Apostle, Calumet, to pastor, St. Andrew's, Nahma, and its missions.

House OKs 4-Year Voter Registration

LANSING (AP) — Four-year voter registration — opposed by some who contend off-year voting is discouraged under such a system — was approved Wednesday in the House by a 56-50 vote, with Democrats carrying the issue.

If approved by the Senate and signed by the governor, the law would replace the present system in which names are carried on the registration lists for two years unless the registrant votes, registers again or files a change of address.

Legislators who argued against the bill said four-year registration would discourage persons from voting in off-year elections. And, they noted, House members are elected every two years.

But backers stated that more persons would be persuaded to vote at some time if the length of registration was extended.

License Time
A bill introduced Wednesday by Rep. Lucille McCollough, D-Dearborn, would automatically renew registration of eligible voters at the time they buy or renew drivers' licenses.

A second bill sent to the Senate would permit townships to establish three-man police forces or pay county sheriffs for protection.

The proposal also permits township officers to enforce state health, fire and traffic laws and to issue vendor and peddler licenses.

In other action, the House moved two bills into position for a final vote. One measure would allow a property owner to seek a court order granting access to neighboring property, if necessary, to make repairs or improvements on his own property.

City Review Board

The second bill changes appointment machinery of city boards that review tax assessment rolls. Citizens' complaints about tax assessments would go first to city review boards before being heard by a State Tax Appeal Board.

Under present law, city reviewers are also city representatives on county boards of supervisors. The legislation would permit cities to separate the functions because of the expanded scope of county boards of supervisors, said Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, one of the chief sponsors of the bills.

Drummond Island Votes On Park

DRUMMOND ISLAND (AP)—A program which could result in a million-dollar restoration of old Fort Drummond, which was the last British stronghold in the continental United States, will be submitted to island voters April 15.

The question will be whether a Drummond Township Park Commission should be created to act for the township in seeking funds and making plans for a restoration program over a period of years.

Fort Drummond, also known as Fort Collyer, was built in 1815 by British troops who had been forced to surrender Mackinac Island by the treaty of the War of 1812.

In its time, it housed a garrison and dependents of 400 persons. It was abandoned by the British in 1823 and the garrison was removed to Georgia Bay in nearby Canada.

The property is now owned by masonry of the old fort and its 34 buildings dot the area, along with old gun emplacements.

The proposal for the April election was approved by the township board last night. Supervisor Eldon Seaman said the commission will move immediately to form a tax-exempt, non-profit corporation to accept private donations to start the work.

The commission will seek private donations sufficient to obtain options on 103 acres of old fort property valued at $160,000. He said the present owners have indicated willingness to sell the land as part of the fort restoration program.

300 To Attend U.P. Convocation Of DeMolay

More than 300 young men from the Upper Peninsula—including about 20 from the Escanaba-Gladstone area—will attend an Upper Peninsula Convocation of the International Order of DeMolay Saturday at the Masonic Temple in Marquette.

Registration will open at 2 p. m. for the convocation, which will feature a joint installation of all Upper Peninsula officers for the spring term.

Master Councilor-elect Greg Olson of the Escanaba Chapter also said that Walter O. Helwig, DeMolay executive for Wisconsin and Junior Councilor of the International Supreme Council will be guest speaker.

The occasion will mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of DeMolay by Frank S. Land, Kansas City, Mo., businessman.

DeMolay chapters are sponsored by local Masonic fraternal lodges throughout the world for young men ages 14 to 20. Chapters are located in Ironwood, Iron River, Houghton, Iron Mountain, Negaunee, Marquette, Manistique, Escanaba, Sault Ste. Marie and Marinette-Menominee.

A dance for DeMolays and their guests will follow the convocation.

Doctor Fails To File Tax Form

DETROIT (AP)—Gregg L. Dunlap, a doctor at Pontiac General Hospital has pleaded guilty in Federal Court in Detroit to a charge of failing to file an income tax report for 1963, the Internal Revenue Service reported Tuesday.

Dunlap was charged with failure to report income of $112,104.89 for the years 1963 through 1966.

TWO ESCANABA MEN will be among the graduates of the Northern Michigan School of Banking when diplomas are awarded tonight. Discussing an assignment at the school with classmates are Richard Derusha, standing, auditor, First National Bank & Trust Co., and H. H. Dubbelde, right, assistant cashier, State Bank of Escanaba. With them are Max Pretti, teller, Hurley, Wis., at left, and Raymond Sablich, assistant cashier, Commercial Bank of Stambaugh.

Coach Cited For Discrimination

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Bob Miller has filed a discrimination complaint with the Ohio Civil Rights Commission after being kicked off the University of Toledo basketball team.

Miller, a star player when he was suspended from the team Jan. 31 on an insubordination count, made the complaint against Coach Bob Nichols.

Miller, from Gloversville, N.Y., said he feels Nichols discriminated against him and other Negro players on the team.

Neither Nichols nor Dr. Jasny Long, university vice president, would comment on the charge.

Nichols suspended Miller, senior forward on the squad, for failing to attend a political science discussion class. Nichols' action was supported by the university's Faculty Senate and the Athletic Board of Control although a letter said the punishment may have been too severe.

Second Teacher Is Suspended

MADISON HEIGHTS (AP)—A high school teacher in the Detroit suburb of Madison Heights has been removed from the classroom for writing a four-letter word on the blackboard and assigning it as an essay topic.

It was the second disciplinary action taken against a faculty member within a week at Lamphere High School.

Superintendent Lawrence H. Valade said Nancy Timbrook, 36, was removed from the classroom Wednesday and will work in the curriculum department for the remainder of the year.

Last Thursday, Patrick Eady, 30, was suspended after bringing two members of the White Panthers who are supporters of the militant Black Panthers to speak to the class. The speakers later distributed what was described as pornographic literature to the class.

Neither teacher has been with the school long enough to have tenure.

Mrs. Timbrook, a mother of 10, was unavailable for comment, but Valade said "supposedly it was an academic discussion of the meaning of the word and why it is objectionable in polite society."

Eady explained he had brought the speakers in to allow his students to see "the whole political spectrum," but said he did not know the speakers would hand out obscene literature.

Valade said "what's happening at Lamphere is happening throughout the country. It's an enormous clash of values and moral systems."

Valade, however, said "I think this was just irresponsible action on the part of two individuals. He (Eady) said he didn't know what was in the pamphlets. But that's a teacher's responsibility—to know those things."

Old Car Serves As Monument

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Dr. Joseph M. Daly developed a sentimental attachment to his 1950 model car during the 19 years he drove it to work.

It was the first car the Indianapolis pediatrician owned. His wife taught him how to drive in it and his three sons learned to drive in it.

When the old car gave out this year, Daly had the body metal cut off and baled under pressure into a cube. He plans to attach a plaque listing its purchase date, motor number, date baled and mileage (86,993) with the inscription: "A fine motor car. Rest in peace."

Then he will place the metal cube under a pine tree in his back yard.

Nixon's Mission

President Nixon is home from his visit to five European nations and has reported to the nation on our foreign policy, as viewed by Washington after his consultations.

Highlights:
The United States expects Soviet Russia to cool off both the Berlin crisis and the Mid-East crisis (Israeli and Arab warfare) because either could lead to a confrontation with the United States, which the Soviet doesn't want any more than does the U. S., because it might start a nuclear war.

The United States has noted that the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese are now killing more Americans in South Vietnam than they were before we stopped the bombing of North Vietnam with the hope and understanding that things would stay status-quo in the war there while the effort to find a peace in the Paris talks continues.

He said that the United States is assessing this situation and indicated that we're going to do something about it, not just suffer heavier casualties without retaliation because it might in some softheaded way be good for the peace talks.

He handled his foreign policy news conference well, giving the impression that there's a mountain of trouble in the world's international relations, but that he has hope that more trust can be built among nations. That was the purpose of his trip and it appears in first assessment to have been successful.

Mr. Nixon seems to have increased the intimacy of our relationship with the exceedingly difficult Charles DeGaulle, the president of France, although the only major blunder of the trip affected DeGaulle. The White House released the text of a buttery arrival statement which was prominently used by the French press before Mr. Nixon's arrival in Paris.

When he did arrive he gave a watered-down version of the address. It is the sort of thing that could have offended DeGaulle, who has a very low flash point, but Nixon appears to have repaired the situation with praise for DeGaulle on a later occasion.

The President stayed as clear as he could of European nations' squabbling among themselves. He said he didn't even discuss the flap which DeGaulle touched off between France and Britain over the European Common Market and the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance in his discussions, although this is hard to believe as having so intimately affected the mechanics of his mission.

He left Western Europe with the first hand impression that the United States has a national government headed by a new team that is going to try to mend some of the world's broken fences. To do that it is going to confer with Soviet Russia (which commentators are saying increasingly is apt to have a change of command). And on the way to the summit it is going to insist first on bilateral negotiations between nations directly affected, and then multi-lateral negotiations.

Mr. Nixon says that there can't be a peace imposed by the superpowers, Russia and the U. S., on Israel and the Arab nations nor in other troubled situations, but that they can discuss avenues by which antagonists can be brought together for agreement. His administration, Mr. Nixon said, would rather take actions than announce threats, to avoid national disappointments in failures of accomplishment. Hence the readying of a socko treatment for North Vietnam unless it stops escalation of the fighting in South Vietnam, where we really confront Soviet Russia, which is supplying more than 80 per cent of the material that keeps the war going.

Mr. Nixon and his administration have made a good start in their foreign policy effort.

Stacking The Deck

The Marquette Mining Journal spans the Northern Michigan University Human Relations Committee, composed of faculty members and students, for a rigged election on continuance of the Job Corps Center on the NMU campus.

The NMU Faculty Senate earlier voted to eliminate the center.

The committee sent a secret ballot to 334 persons who held academic rank at the university as of last Nov. 15, asking a vote on: 1. Retention, 2. opposition to retention, 3. No opinion. Only 209 ballots were voted, 109 favored retention, 83 were opposed and 17 had no opinion.

With the ballot went a "Vote For Me" type of blurb presenting the Job Corps Center in a favorable way, although there's much to be said on the other side. This effort to rig the election should have brought repudiation of the referendum by all persons asked to vote. The Human Relations Committee has discredited itself.

BARBS By PHIL PASTORET

The speed of light is almost that of gossip.

We get a kick out of our job almost every day — from the boss.

Folks who can't tell a lie have no business taking jobs as receptionists.

It's about time for the sap to begin to rise — to the allure of those in the used car prices.

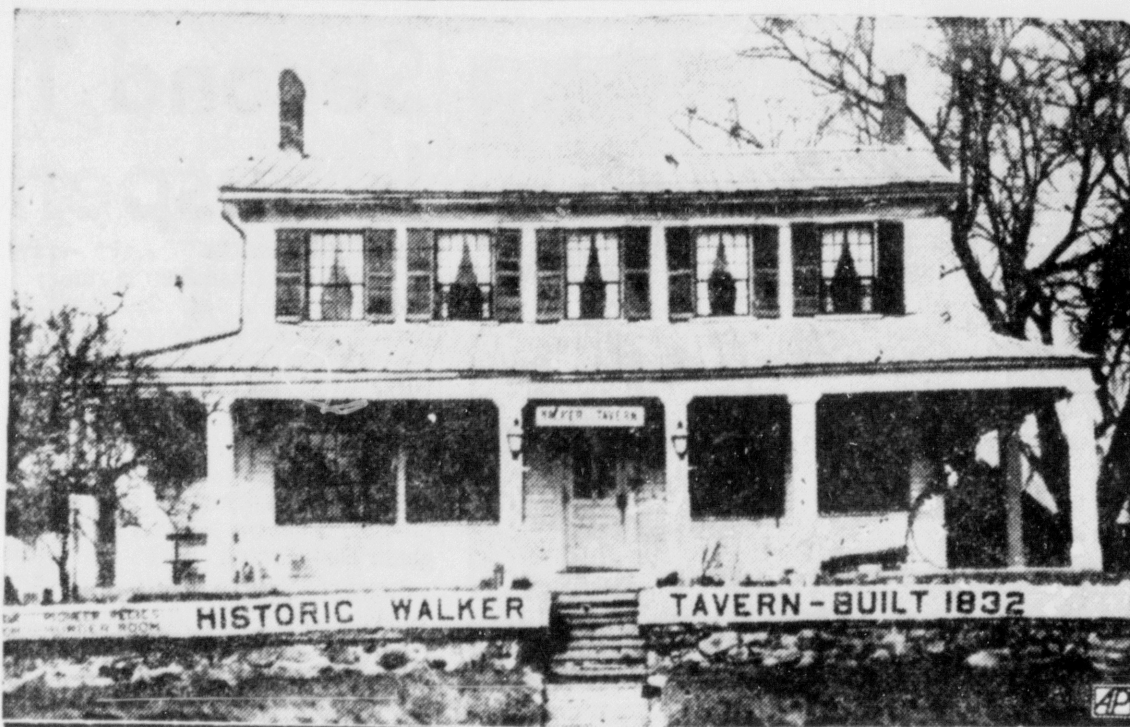

Science is wonderful. A car that returns electronically to its garage is being developed, but the horse has been able to do that for years and years.

The young man eager for a job he can get his teeth into should consider that of taste-tester in a taffy factory.

And we couldn't wait to tell you of the fellow who apprenticed himself to a cigar manufacturer. He wanted to learn the ropes;

No, Gwendolyn, horse linament isn't what you use when you lose your voice temporarily.

If you'd be known for keeping promises, give them out sparingly.

Irish Hills Flourish As Tourist Mecca

ADRIAN (AP) — The Irish Hills, draped in natural splendor, are once again becoming a tourist mecca.

Almost forgotten during the depression and the years following World War II, this north-west corner of Lenawee County is growing again with vigor.

It was in 1840 that an Irish Episcopal priest first viewed the area, claiming it "the nearest thing to Paradise on earth" he could imagine.

"It wasn't until 1920, however, when the old 'Chicago Turnpike' connecting Detroit and Chicago, was paved that many outsiders had a chance to view the area.

Still, tourists were infrequent and almost nonexistent during the winter months. The area finally began to boom in the summer of that year when a War started.

Observation Tower

It wasn't a war of guns and bullets, but one of hammers and nails. It started when the Michigan Observation Co. bought a piece of high ground overlooking Iron Lake. There it erected an observation tower some 50 feet high.

The tower, with a 24-foot square base, was built on ground purchased from Thomas Brighton. But before the paint had time to dry on the new structure, a second tower was being erected a few feet west by Ed Kelly. When the hammers stalled on the second tower, it stood 60 feet high.

The war was on, Michigan Observation called its carpenters back and they added a square cap, some 15 feet high, to the original tower, raising its height to 55 feet.

Tourists flocked to the area to watch the two growing giants. First one tower, then the other, would add to its height until the Kelly Tower stood 64 feet and the original tower 62.

Import Attractions

Deciding not to go any higher, the two owners then began importing various attractions. Monkeys, alligators, bears and other animals were used to attract business.

Today, the two towers, owned by Anthony Mustakas of Grosse Pointe Farms, both stand 64 feet. A passage way connects the two one-time rivals and visitors have a choice of which to climb.

Letters

SMOG

While driving into Eskey Saturday morning, I met with a scene which made this old Detroit's heart droop with nostalgia.

What I saw, as I approached on Memory Lane, was authentic smog. A pale bluish haze hung heavily over the town. Nearing 23rd and Ludington, I could actually notice the sun's shine weakening as those millions of tiny bits of things came between the blue country sky and me.

For the first time, I found myself ranking Escanaba with such industrial giants as New York City, Gary, Indiana, and Wyandotte, Michigan. Be proud Escanaba, you're joining the major league.

DISSENT

I wish to call the attention of all readers of the Press (Feb. 28) Page 1 on Madison Dissenters.

I would like to see the names of who in our nation's governors rejected the call for a federal investigation into campus disorders by Ronald Reagan. Out of F-E-A-R. Fear it would foment more unrest. Certainly some of the leaders of our nation must be very weak and sick. The future makes me sick, too. TAXES for damages, etc.

George Brown
Rapid River

STANDING STRAIGHT AND TALL, the two old towers, Original and Gray, overlook the beautiful Irish Hills. Built in the 1920s, the towers are still a landmark for tourists traveling through the area (AP Photo)

The towers, like in the past, are also the hub of the tourist area.

The summer months are by far the busiest. Tourists flock to such attractions as Frontier City, Stage Coach Stop, Pre-Historic Forest, Autarama, Mystery Hill and St. Joseph's Shrine. Another favorite is Historic Walker Tavern, recently purchased by the State of Michigan and now undergoing renovation.

Speedway

The newest attraction in the area is Michigan International Speedway. This $4 million track, completed in 1968, will be the scene of five big races in 1969. The first will be the Four-hour Wolverine TransAm on May 11. The Motor State 500 for stock cars is scheduled on June 15, with the Yankee 600, also for stocks, to be run Aug. 7.

Outdoor activities abound in the area in both the winter and summer. For golfers there is the short and hilly, but challenging nine-hole golf course at the Irish Hills Sports Park. It is lighted for night play in the summer and in the winter is turned into the southernmost ski resort in Michigan.

Other winter activities can be found at Frontier Highlands. A new toboggan slide was opened this winter.

Snowmobiles

Snowmobiles made the scene here this winter as a sanctioned race was held at Juniper Hills. Plans are now afoot to bring the Nationals to the area in the future to race around the two-mile oval speedway.

Another outdoor facility that attracts visitors is Hidden Lake Gardens, located on M-50 near Tipton. It is owned by Michigan State University. A tour of the area will turn up almost every type of plant, shrub or tree native to the area.

Then there is Walter J. Hayes State Park on Wampers Lake. In 1968 over 105,000 campers used the facilities there.

Lakes such as Evans, Sand, Iron, Wolfe, Washington, Allen, Meadow, Marr, Kelly and Twin are teaming with bass and panfish. Allen also is stocked with trout.

The hills and wooded areas also provide homes for plenty of whitetail deer. Some of the state's largest racks are shot in this area. Other hunters seek out pheasants, rabbits, squirrel, quail, raccoon or fox.

Americans monopolized the world's whaling industry during the 18th and 19th centuries, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Win At Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

One feature of early contract bidding was the unwillingness of players to sacrifice against adverse games and slams. There were plenty of poor overcalls at low levels and an alert player could gather lots of points by doubling them but no one seemed to realize the value of distribution in defensive bidding at a high level.

Today's hand appeared in the 1929 Bridge World in an article entitled "Homer Nods," in which a rival writer was properly taken to task for overlooking correct dummy play.

When this writer played the hand he ruffed the second diamond, played a couple of trumps and led a club to dummy's ace. He was sure that East held the kings of both hearts and clubs and hoped that if East held exactly two clubs, he would be able to throw him in. East, the late Irene Hautain, one of the best woman players of that day, foiled his plan by dropping her king of clubs under dummy's ace, whereupon South had to go one down.

The writer of the Bridge World article points out that South should have made his contract and that no defense would succeed against correct play.

South could be sure that East started with six diamonds. Fourth best leads were always made in those days. He had shown two spades and surely held at least two clubs for his no-trump call. Therefore all South had to do was to duck a heart completely and follow up later on by playing ace and another heart from dummy. East's king would drop and South would discard one of his clubs on the queen of hearts.

It is far more interesting to note that non one seems to have pointed out that East and West should have bid five diamonds. The contract wouldn't make but they would only have been set one trick. Of course, it was better to set four spades but if they had bid five diamonds they would probably have gotten South one higher in spades, whereupon East and West would have a sure profit.

Ann Landers

Owners Telephoned Dog While On Trip

Dear Ann Landers: A while back you said it was risky to publish letters about people who act foolish over cats or dogs because every time you do, dozens of readers telephone the publisher, write to the editor, cancel their advertising, and stop taking the paper. Even if this letter never makes the column I want to tell you what happened to my sister.

Dora lives next door to people who have a pet Scottie named MacTavish. They went on a trip recently and asked Dora if she would take MacTavish. Last year they put him in a kennel for ten days and he went on a hunger strike and nearly starved to death.

These people telephoned Dora every night to talk to their dog. In fact, they put the call through person-to-person for Mr. Sandy MacTavish. Dora held the dog up to the phone and when he heard their voices he cried for three minutes and that was supposed to be a conversation.

Are people getting crazier, Ann, or are the crazy people just getting more publicity? Where will it all end?—BAFFLED BARNEY

Dear Baff: Do you know that Americans spend more money on dog food than on baby food? And only last week I read where dog cosmetics are getting to be big business.

Gone are the days when flea powder was the only thing you could buy for a mutt. Now you can select Poochie Nail Polish in five shades, perfumes with names like Le Chien, Third Paw and Ari Pette. A birth control pill is available for the lady dogs who go in for planned parenthood. And dig this—there's a hound's mouthwash called Happy Breath. Man's best friend is also one of his best customers.

Dear Ann Landers: I want to help "Oregon Grandma." She told of her 8-year-old grandchild who was burned when she was 3. The burns healed eventually, she said, but her once beautiful little face is now badly disfigured.

I am sure you know of the 19 Crippled Children's Hospitals owned and operated by the Shriners of North America. You may not know, however, that the Shriners now have three hospitals devoted exclusively to burn problems. They are located in Boston, Galveston and Cincinnati. Like the Crippled Children's Hospitals all the youngsters are treated without charge. Consequently treatment is restricted to those who cannot afford to pay. This is the ONLY restriction, however. Children of all races, colors and creeds are admitted.

If you will send me the name and address of the Oregon Grandmother, I will put her in touch with the nearest Shrine Burn Hospital. Sincerely, W. L. S.

Dear W. L. S.: We do not save letters once they have been published. If Oregon Grandmother sees this and writes to me, I'll see that she gets your information. In the meantime, you have informed approximately 54 million people of this splendid service by the Shriners and I thank you.

In this connection, several readers have written about another organization which would help the little girl. It is the Society for the Rehabilitation of the Facially Disfigured, Inc., 550 First Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10016.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces it is love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Nixon's Mission

President Nixon is home from his visit to five European nations and has reported to the nation on our foreign policy, as viewed by Washington after his consultations.

Highlights:

The United States expects Soviet Russia to cool off both the Berlin crisis and the Mid-East crisis (Israeli and Arab warfare) because either could lead to a confrontation with the United States, which the Soviet doesn't want any more than does the U. S., because it might start a nuclear war.

The United States has noted that the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese are now killing more Americans in South Vietnam they were before we stopped the bombing of North Vietnam with the hope and understanding that things would stay status-quo in the war there while the effort to find a peace in the Paris talks continues.

He said that the United States is assessing this situation and indicated that we're going to do something about it, not just suffer heavier casualties without retaliation because it might in some softened way be good for the peace talks.

He handled his foreign policy news conference well, giving the impression that there's a mountain of trouble in the world's international relations, but that he has hope that more trust can be built among nations. That was the purpose of his trip and it appears in first assessment to have been successful.

Mr. Nixon seems to have increased the intimacy of our relationship with the exceedingly difficult Charles DeGaulle, the president of France, although the only major blunder of the trip affected DeGaulle. The White House released the text of a buttery arrival statement which was prominently used by the French press before Mr. Nixon's arrival in Paris.

When he did arrive he gave a watered-down version of the address. It is the sort of thing that could have offended DeGaulle, who has a very low flash point, but Nixon appears to have repaired the situation with praise for DeGaulle on a later occasion.

The President stayed as clear as he could of European nations' squabbling among themselves. He said he didn't even discuss the flap which DeGaulle touched off between France and Britain over the European Common Market and the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance in his discussions, although this is hard to believe as having so intimately affected the mechanics of his mission.

He left Western Europe with the first hand impression that the United States has a national government headed by a new team that is going to try to mend some of the world's broken fences. To do that it is going to confer with Soviet Russia (which commentators are saying increasingly is apt to have a change of command). And on the way to the summit it is going to insist first on bilateral negotiations between nations directly affected, and then multi-lateral negotiations.

Mr. Nixon says that there can't be a peace imposed by the superpowers, Russia and the U. S., on Israel and the Arab nations nor in other troubled situations, but that they can discuss avenues by which antagonists can be brought together for agreement. His administration, Mr. Nixon said, would rather take actions than announce threats, to avoid national disappointments in failures of accomplishment. Hence the reading of a socko treatment for North Vietnam unless its stops escalation of the fighting in South Vietnam, where we really confront Soviet Russia, which is supplying more than 80 percent of the material that keeps the war going.

Mr. Nixon and his administration have made a good start in their foreign policy effort.

Stacking The Deck

The Marquette Mining Journal spans the Northern Michigan University Human Relations Committee, composed of faculty members and students, for a rigged election on continuance of the Job Corps Center on the NMU campus.

The NMU Faculty Senate earlier voted to eliminate the center.

The committee sent a secret ballot to 331 persons who held academic rank at the university as of last Nov. 15, asking a vote on: 1. Retention, 2. opposition to retention, 3. No opinion. Only 209 ballots were voted, 109 favored retention, 83 were opposed and 17 had no opinion.

With the ballot went a "Vote For Me" type of blurb presenting the Job Corps Center in a favorable way, although there's much to be said on the other side. This effort to rig the election should have brought repudiation of the referendum by all persons asked to vote. The Human Relations Committee has discredited itself.

Even if this letter never makes the column I want to tell you what happened to my sister.

Dora lives next door to people who have a pet Scottie named MacTavish. They went on a trip recently and asked Dora if she would take MacTavish. Last year they put him in a kennel for ten days and he went on a hunger strike and nearly starved to death.

These people telephoned Dora every night to talk to their dog. In fact, they put the call through person-to-person for Mr. Sandy MacTavish. Dora held the dog up to the phone and when he heard their voices he cried for three minutes and that was supposed to be a conversation.

Are people getting crazier, Ann, or are the crazy people just getting more publicity? Where will it all end?—BAFFLED BARNEY

Dear Ann Landers: Do you know that Americans spend more money on dog food than on baby food? And only last week I read where dog cosmetics are getting to be big business. Gone are the days when flea powder was the only thing you could buy for a mutt. Now you can select Poochie Nail Polish in five shades, perfumes with names like Le Chien, Third Paw and Arf Pette. A birth control pill is available for the lady dogs who go in for planned parenthood. And dig this—there's a hound's mouthwash called Happy Breath. Man's best friend is also one of his best customers.

Dear Ann Landers: I want to help "Oregon Grandma." She told of her 8-year-old grandchild who was burned when she was 3. The burns healed eventually, she said, but her once beautiful little face is now badly disfigured.

I am sure you know of the 19 Crippled Children's Hospitals owned and operated by the Shriners of North America. You may not know, however, that the Shriners now have three hospitals devoted exclusively to burn problems. They are located in Boston, Galveston and Cincinnati. Like the Crippled Children's Hospitals all the youngsters are treated without charge. Consequently treatment is restricted to those who cannot afford to pay. This is the ONLY restriction, however. Children of all races, colors and creeds are admitted.

If you will send me the name and address of the Oregon Grandmother, I will put her in touch with the nearest Shrine Burn Hospital. Sincerely, W. L. S.

Dear W. L. S.: We do not save letters once they have been published. If Oregon Grandmother sees this and writes to me, I'll see that she gets your information. In the meantime, you have informed approximately 54 million people of this splendid service by the Shriners and I thank you.

In this connection, several readers have written about another organization which would help the little girl. It is the Society for the Rehabilitation of the Facially Disfigured, Inc., 550 First Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10018.

When romantic glances turn to warm embraces it is love or chemistry? Send for the booklet "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Directors Share Enthusiasm Over Upcoming Play

Stage Director John Romstad and Musical Director Beverly Moraco share lots of enthusiasm and excitement over the coming Players de Noc production of "Li'l Abner." The play, which has been cited as one of the classics of American musicals, was selected by the two directors for production in late April and early May.

The plot is a mixture of hill-billy nonsense and sharp, satirical humor characteristic of cartoonist Al Capp.

Word is sent from Washington that citizens of Dogpatch must evacuate their mountain homes because Dogpatch has been selected as the most unnecessary town in the country, and therefore, the perfect site for nuclear tests.

It appears that something useful is found when Mammy Yokum produces her secret formula of Yokumberry tonic, which makes muscle men of weaklings. However, General Bullmoose, a sly and conniving politician, sets a sultry siren and Evil Eye Fleagle (with his double whammy) to work on Li'l Abner, hoping to wheedle Mammy's secret formula from him.

The citizens of Dogpatch, after a trip to Washington, foil his plan, and everybody settles down for a peaceful life of rustic simplicity in Dogpatch, U. S. A.

How did the directors make this selection for Players de Noc?

"Bev insisted that I select four or so plays that I would like to direct, and from those, she would select the one that seemed to her to be most musically exciting," Romstad said. "We ordered perusal copies and then began a serious study of scripts and music. Actually, I've had the desire, for some time, to do this show."

Mrs. Moraco said she was very reticent about considering a hill-billy type show because she wanted to have a little more artistry involved.

"I kept putting off listening to 'Li'l Abner' until I had read and heard the others, but it wasn't long before the quality of music and performance had me convinced that this was for us."

"Li'l Abner was picked because it contains many speaking roles and good, spirited chorus numbers," she said. "All of the music is great and the lyrics are tremendous."

Tryouts continue today in Room 105 of Bay de Noc Community College from 4 to 6 p. m. and also Friday at the Senior High School Choral Room from 3:30 to 5 p. m. and again from 7 to 9:30 p. m.

"Everyone should try out for this show because Dogpatch is full of different-sized 'critters'. We need 'em lean and lanky, big and round, short and stout—well, all shapes and sizes—and that goes for both men and women," the directors said.

from where a rocket killed eight people last Monday.

At least 17 homes crumbled, and some of them went up in flames.

Hospital Bedlam

Saigon's central hospital was a scene of tragic bedlam as the dead and wounded poured in. Women holding bloodstained, wounded babies stormed the foyer, hysterically seeking treatment from the 10 doctors overwhelmed with wounded. The corpse of one woman was taken from a taxi, a dead child held tight in her arms.

The enemy gunners are believed trying to hit government buildings in and around downtown Saigon, but the rockets are saturation missiles that can't be aimed accurately. Three of the barrages have apparently fallen short and slammed into the crowded slums of the Fourth Precinct.

Reds' Targets

Elsewhere, some 35 other towns and allied bases were hit by rocket and mortar attacks during the night, a slight increase in the tempo of shelling for the past few days.

Among the targets were headquarters bases of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division and 1st Air Cavalry Division and two brigade camps of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division north of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said total casualties and damage were light, but several helicopters were damaged in the shelling of the Air Cavalry headquarters 40 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. Protests Saigon Shelling At Paris Talks

PARIS (AP) — The United States protested strongly today against "the indiscriminate shelling of the city of Saigon" and told the North Vietnamese and the National Liberation Front "the consequences of these attacks are your responsibility."

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge did not elaborate on "the consequences at the seventh session of the enlarged peace talks. President Nixon warned Tuesday that shellings, such as the heavy attack today on Saigon would bring "some response that is appropriate."

Both North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front scorned Nixon's warning and accused him of "intensifying the war." The North Vietnamese said that "the Vietnamese people refuse to be intimidated," and the front representative claimed the "inalienable right to self-defense."

Denies Conditions

The United States claims the conditions of the decision to end all the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1 included an undertaking by the North Vietnamese to refrain from attacks on civilian centers. Hanoi denies there were any conditions.

The delegations met for only four hours, the shortest session since the enlarged peace talks began Jan. 23. The four delegations agreed to meet again next Thursday.

Lodge repeated his earlier proposals to begin peacemaking with military questions, emphasizing the restoration of the demilitarized buffer zone between North and South Vietnam.

Tran Buu Kiem, the "foreign minister" of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, told the American and South Vietnamese delegations: "We reaffirm once again the sacred and inalienable right to self defense of the armed forces and population of South Vietnam."

Predict Defeats

He said the U.S. and Saigon governments were making a lot of noise about events in Saigon because they had suffered "stunning defeats."

"The present situation in South Vietnam shows clearly that no maneuvers, no tricks and no threats of the United States and their lackeys can save them from defeat," Kiem said.

"It is truly an illusion to want to achieve a position of strength on the battlefield and at the conference table when one has failed, as the United States has failed, in Vietnam."

Kiem accused Nixon of threatening to "make the Vietnamese people suffer the consequences of their struggle against aggression."

He said that as long as the United States continued its war effort, "the South Vietnamese population will continue to combat aggression in accordance with its perfect right to punish the aggressors wherever they may be and at whatever moment."

Federal Money: Cities, States Wait For Funds

Escanaba's efforts to obtain state and federal participation in its funding of a $5 million water and sewerage improvement program will have to wait approving action by Congress in making federal funds available, Escanaba City Manager George Harvey said today.

Harvey, City Engineer John Dulek and Water Superintendent Francis D'Amour were in Washington at a project seminar and found that Escanaba and other cities are in the same financial boat that cannot be launched until Congress acts on appropriations.

Initially the federal funding was to be 25 per cent, local 25 per cent, and state 50 per cent. The state recently reported that the division might be 45 per cent local and 55 per cent state-federal.

Escanaba's city manager told the Council that the project would have to be reviewed in the light of reduced state-federal participation, because the city could not pick up 45 per cent of $5 million.

"We feel we did make some progress in Washington, for Escanaba's preliminary project application, filed in December of 1967, is now getting some attention. This was for the sewer and water improvement program, on which we had been promised that local funding would be only 25 per cent. It was still only 25 per cent as late as October last year — but until Congress implements the funding with an appropriation we won't know where we are," said Harvey.

Escanaba is proceeding with its planning, however, in anticipation that federal and state money commitments will be met as promised.

Harvey returned to Escanaba to be here for tonight's meeting of the City Council, while Dulek and D'Amour are in Chicago to meet with regional officials of Housing and Urban Development on project processing. With them is William Gibbs, Black & Veatch engineering firm representative, the city's consultant.

Leaving for Chicago today also for a meeting to expedite the Escanaba senior citizens housing project are John Gannon, Housing Authority chairman, and Howard Smale, the city's administrative assistant.

Milliken Calls Meet To Settle Copper Strike

LANSING (AP) — Union and management representatives involved in the Upper Peninsula copper strike will meet Monday with state and federal mediators, Gov. William G. Milliken has announced.

The meeting in Lansing was arranged following a conference between Milliken and Robert G. Howlett, chairman of the labor mediation board, the governor's office said Wednesday.

Milliken will not attend the meeting, his office said.

Representatives of the Calumet & Hecla Division of Universal Oil Products Inc. and the United Steelworkers Union have not met across the bargaining table for nearly a month, authorities reported.

The strike began in late August 1968.

"The strike has meant severe human and economic hardship for about 1,000 workers and their families since it began more than six months ago," Milliken said. "I fervently hope that Monday's meeting will be the beginning of the end for this tragic situation. I trust that immediate and dedicated good faith negotiations can bring this harmful strike to a close as soon as possible," he added.

College To Bond For Construction Of 2nd Building

The Bay de Noc College Board of Trustees Wednesday night approved a resolution to bond for $525,000 to finance construction of a Classroom-Library complex.

Dr. Richard Rinehart said the action, taken after consultation with bonding attorney Robert Thrun, continues the campus development program within the millage approved by voters last year.

"From the beginning of the college development project to completion, in about 1981, through several phases of construction, the present millage base with state and federal assistance will provide the funds necessary for development," Rinehart said.

The Classroom-Library Complex is estimated to have a total project cost of $620,000. The local share will be $202,000. Acting Board Chairman Joseph Heirman said that it was considered both desirable and necessary to erect and furnish the classroom-library complex and to develop and improve the campus site.

"This board has planned carefully to construct projects within the means of our present millage base and which are essential for the present needs and projected growth in the College enrollment," he said.

In other action, the Board approved the campus master plan and preliminary designs which will be integrated into an overall development concept for the college by Davenport Associates of Grand Rapids.

Projects from the master plan have previously been approved and are under development, including the Science Tech labs (under construction) and the classroom-library complex (approved for bonding and preparation of detailed drawings).

New projects included in the master plan are a Health Education and convocation building and a campus center for student services, activities and administration. Additional long range projects include: Maintenance and Automotive Shop, Technical Education Building, Classroom Building and various study space options.

Present planning recognizes the significant emphasis the faculty staff and architect place on the development of physical education facilities and the need for a campus student center.

The question of student housing was considered and referred to Rinehart for additional study.

College To Bond For Construction Of 2nd Building

The Bay de Noc College Board of Trustees Wednesday night approved a resolution to bond for $525,000 to finance construction of a Classroom-Library complex.

Dr. Richard Rinehart said the action, taken after consultation with bonding attorney Robert Thrun, continues the campus development program within the millage approved by voters last year.

"From the beginning of the college development project to completion, in about 1961, through several phases of construction, the present millage base with state and federal assistance will provide the funds necessary for development," Rinehart said.

The Classroom-Library Complex is estimated to have a total project cost of $620,000. The local share will be $202,000. Acting Board Chairman Joseph Heirman said that it was considered both desirable and necessary to erect and furnish the classroom-library complex and to develop and improve the campus site.

"This board has planned carefully to construct projects within the means of our present millage base and which are essential for the present needs and projected growth in the College enrollment," he said.

In other action, the Board approved the campus master plan and preliminary designs which will be integrated into an overall development concept for the college by Davenport Associates of Grand Rapids.

Projects from the master plan have previously been approved and are under development, including the Science Tech labs (under construction) and the classroom-library complex (approved for bonding and preparation of detailed drawings).

New projects included in the master plan are a Health Education and convocation building and a campus center for student services, activities and administration. Additional long range projects include: Maintenance and Automotive Shop, Technical Education Building, Classroom Building and various study space options.

Present planning recognizes the significant emphasis the faculty staff and architect place on the development of physical education facilities and the need for a campus student center.

The question of student housing was considered and referred to Rinehart for additional study.

Senate Passes Antiriot Bill

LANSING (AP) — The state Senate Wednesday passed a controversial measure giving local authorities limited powers to declare states of emergency in situations where riot is imminent and the governor is not in the state.

Opponents said the bill "manifests a horse-and-buggy psychology" and could be unconstitutional.

The vote was 26-10.

The bill — a toned-down version of one vetoed last year by former Gov. George Romney — empowers local units of government to enact ordinances authorizing their officials to set curfews and prohibit sale of alcohol, gasoline and arms.

Included is the provision, termed "essential" by Gov. William Milliken, that no state of emergency be proclaimed at the local level any time the governor is within the state and available to take action himself.

Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin, D-Berkley, who led the fight against the bill, said the provision made the bill "meaningless."

"There is always a person in the state with the governor's powers," Levin said, citing constitutional provisions for succession of power.

He suggested the measure may be unconstitutional in that legislators do not have the right to limit the exercise of the constitutionally provided succession.

Levin cited a "horse-and-buggy psychology," saying that years ago it may not have been possible to communicate state problems to a governor who was outside the state.

"But there's not a single reason now why he can't be kept abreast of problems," Levin said.

"Instead of looking to the actual needs of the people, this bill looks to the galleries," he said.

"This bill makes good public relations," said Sen. John McCauley, D-Wyandotte. "It makes good talk when you go back to the district. But it's bad for the people of the state."

Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, chief sponsor of the measure, maintained that it restricted local authorities rather than giving them additional power.

The bill, he pointed out, included a model ordinance authorizing local powers and could eliminate any "hodge-podge" of different curfews.

The measure now faces action in the House, where observers predicted its defeat.

Meanwhile, Sen. James Fleming, R-Jackson, introduced a constitutional amendment proposal designed to limit the use of state highway funds exclusively to "highway construction, maintenance and administration."

Existing law restricts use of these funds to "highway purposes as defined by law."

Controversy developed recently over a proposal by Milliken to divert $1.6 million from the highway fund to the State Police for the patrolling of state highways.

"I am not against more money for State Police highway patrols," Fleming said. "But I am strongly opposed to raiding the highway construction fund for this purpose."

Public Hearings For Bar Cases

LANSING (AP) — The state Supreme Court has decided to partially remove the curtain of secrecy surrounding investigations of misconduct by lawyers.

The high court said Wednesday that "all formal hearings on any matter of misconduct" conducted by the State Bar Association grievance committee shall be open to the public.

But the court delayed action on a proposal to suspend lawyers who fail to attend the hearings because of illness.

The action came one day after the court held a special session concerning grievance and disciplinary measures.

Justice Eugene F. Black proposed changing state bar rules to permit the public to view informal investigation of misconduct by the bar association.

However, the proposal was not supported, the court said.

The State Bar Association has sought to amend the rules to establish a three-stage review:

- Informal investigation by a committee.
- Formal, public hearing.
- Final review by three appointed judges to decide guilt and appropriate punishment.

Another amendment to temporarily prohibit lawyers from practicing if they fail to attend the hearings because of illness was held for further consideration.

Ask Amnesty For Ferris Negroes

LANSING (AP) — Two Negro state senators called Wednesday for total amnesty for the more than 260 black Ferris State College students arrested earlier this week in racial strife on the campus.

Sens. Coleman Young and Basil Brown, both Detroit Democrats, met briefly with Gov. William Milliken to discuss the situation and urge that trespass charges against the black students be dropped in the interest of "equal justice."

"We want an equal application of the law," Young said. "Those whites who were guilty of assault and refused to disperse are equally guilty of violations of the law."

Brown said Ferris President Victor Spathelf should take "a course in 20th century race relations."

He said the college is not equipped to handle black students. "You don't handle black students any differently than you handle green students. The man is not in the 20th century."

Senate Republicans, meanwhile, adopted a caucus resolution commending Milliken, Spathelf and State Police Director Fredrick Davids for the way in which the Ferris disorder was handled.

Sen. John Toeppe, R-Cadillac, who spent 12 hours Tuesday at Ferris, said he felt that justice was meted out equitably. But, minutes later he said some jarring white students also should have been arrested.

"Whites were literally besieging the place," Young added. "The black students were not going anywhere."

Brown also called for adjournment of a bond deadline, set for noon Friday. Those arrested were released after being arraigned on charges of trespassing and ordered to pay $50 bond each by that time.

Brown and Young termed "totalling incomprehensible" Spathelf's reported refusal to meet Tuesday with parents who went to the campus to see the situation for themselves.

Milliken indicated he was "working quietly" to compile a complete file on the Ferris situation, the senators said, and it seemed to be "high priority."

Young added, however, that he hoped the governor would issue a strong statement to assure the black community of Michigan that there can be some equal application of the law.

Ask Extradition Of Bank Robber

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Michigan authorities were asked Wednesday to return Chester Allen Johnson to face a charge of murdering Loren E. Silliphant, 18, son of screen writer Sterling Silliphant.

Similar extradition proceedings were begun in Oakland where Johnson is accused of the Feb. 19 slaying of Dr. Glenn Olsen, a dentist.

Johnson, 22, was arrested at his mother's home in Jackson, Mich., last week after his girlfriend, Terry Phelps, 19, told police of the slaying.

Silliphant was shot in the chest by a man who burst into the youth's Hollywood apartment Feb. 12.

Give Up Parking Space For Grass

LANSING (AP) — Rep. David M. Serotkin, R - Mount Clemens, has volunteered to give up his Capitol parking space in the interests of aesthetics and green grass.

Referring to a recent proposal by House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, to pave portions of the north and south Capitol grounds, Serotkin said today that "a balance must be maintained between utilitarian considerations and aesthetics."

"If you let some people go they would turn the whole world into a parking lot," he added.

Honoree Faces Robbery Charge

DETROIT (AP) — One of four nominees last month by suburban Inkster's Jaycees for their Distinguished Service Award, 32-year-old Carl P. Apple faces a U.S. District Court hearing April 24 on bank robbery charges.

Jailed over the weekend, he now is free on bond.

The robber got only $1,933, which he stuffed into a coat pocket. He jammed a toy, plastic gun in the other and ran.

Apple was arrested at the end of a chase from a Manufacturers National Bank branch in nearby Westland.

He was highly thought of in Inkster and was involved in a number of civic and social tasks.

He was active in church projects and St. Norbert's School Parent-Teacher Guild, a past president of Inkster Jaycees, a member of the Dearborn-Inkster Human Relations Council and director-treasurer of the Wayne County Suburban Legal Aid Service.

Apple told reporters he had had "some troubles."

"All of a sudden I was a failure and I couldn't bring myself to tell my wife, my friends, or anyone, even myself," he said.

Blames Army Corps Of Engineers For Pollution

BAMES ARMY INSIDE WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Thomas L. Ashley, D-Ohio, blamed the Army Corps of Engineers Tuesday for contributing heavily to pollution of the Great Lakes, particularly Lake Erie.

The engineers, he said, dump into the lakes polluted materials dredged up in harbor and channel deepening projects.

Such a practice is not in harmony "with the national objective of cleaning up our rivers and lakes," Ashley told the House Public Works Committee.

Lake Erie, he said, "has been artificially aged some 15,000 years in the past half century by pollution activity."

Dredging activities of the Army engineers since 1960 have resulted in the dumping of more than 40 million cubic yards of polluted materials in disposal areas along the entire U.S. shoreline of the lake, he said. In some instances, he said, polluted material has been dumped near intakes for municipal water supplies.

Committee members noted that all dredging projects undertaken by Army engineers are authorized by Congress, which generally instructs the engineers to dispose of the material in the least expensive manner and this usually means dumping it into the lakes.

Communities on the Great Lakes ask for deeper harbors and navigation channels, said Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla. "You have to have dredging if you are going to have channels and harbors—it's a choice between changing the channel or the water intake sometimes."

Rep. John Blatnik, D-Minn., said Congress would have to provide necessary funds for other disposal areas.

The committee is considering legislation aimed at preventing water pollution.

Edwin J. Wolf, a Baltimore lawyer testifying in behalf of Chesapeake Bay boat owners, said the federal government should pre-empt the field of regulating waste disposal by vessels on lakes and rivers. Otherwise, he said, there would be a maze of conflicting state laws.

Bills To Halt Discrimination By Realtors

LANSING (AP) — Four bills designed to halt alleged discriminatory practices by suburban real estate agents were introduced in the House Tuesday by Rep. Jams Bradley, D-Detroit. Bradley earlier asked the Michigan Civil Rights Commission to investigate claims that real estate salesmen in suburban Detroit refused to show or sell property to Negro home buyers.

The bills would require realtors to keep logs that would include the names of clients, their race and the final disposition of the transaction. The logs would be available for inspection by the Civil Rights Commission, the Negro legislator said.

In addition, the bills would prohibit discriminatory language in listing agreements between brokers and sellers and force all real estate license applicants to agree not to discriminate because of race, creed or national origin.

Another bill introduced would require all successful primary election candidates for the state Legislature, who win a primary election, to submit a copy of their fingerprints.

Rep. Roy Smith, R-Ypsilanti, introduced a bill requiring all high school dropouts under the age of 18 years to forfeit his driver's or chauffeur's license.

The license would be returned after the licensee reached the age of 18 years or returned to school.

Oil Merger Gets Go-Ahead Signal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has given a reluctant and conditional go-ahead to what may be the biggest oil company merger of all time—the consolidation of Atlantic Richfield and Sinclair.

Stringent conditions imposed by the government would allow for future restoration of the two separate companies if court appeals opposing the merger are successful.

The proposed merger, agreed to by the two firms last Oct. 31, would link the nation's 10th and 11th largest oil companies.

At the beginning of 1968, Atlantic Richfield listed assets of $1.9 billion and Sinclair had assets of $1.8 billion.

Rules Hearing On Housing Authority

LANSING (AP) — A public hearing on proposed rules to govern the new State Housing Development Authority will be held March 17 in Lansing, Gov. William Milliken announced today.

The rules would enable the authority to provide staff assistance and noninterest-bearing "seed money" advances to non-profit housing corporations. Funds would be repaid when corporations acquired permanent financing.

The rules also would allow the authority to issue up to $50 million in bonds to provide permanent financing for building housing for low and moderate income families.

Killed Day After His Son's Birth

ROSEVILLE (AP) — A soldier from Roseville killed in Vietnam recently died the day after the birth of his only son, his parents say.

Sgt. Robert J. Frankowiak, 20, suffered a shrapnel wound Feb. 21, but disregarded it and went back into combat and was killed Feb. 28. The dead soldier was his parents' only son.

Pontiac Workers Return To Jobs

PONTIAC (AP) — Negotiations have been adjourned until Friday between the City of Pontiac and about 400 employees, who ended a strike Wednesday under a court order.

Meanwhile, city officials reported that all city services have been returned to normal.

The 140 firemen ended their third brief walkout Wednesday and 350 other city employees returned to work for the first time since Feb. 14.

Negotiators met briefly Wednesday, then recessed to work on contract language. Gordon A. Gregory, a union attorney, said a settlement appeared very close.

Blames Army Corps Of Engineers For Pollution

BAMES ARMY INSIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Thomas L. Ashley, D-Ohio, blamed the Army Corps of Engineers Tuesday for contributing heavily to pollution of the Great Lakes, particularly Lake Erie.

The engineers, he said, dump into the lakes polluted materials dredged up in harbor and channel deepening projects.

Such a practice is not in harmony "with the national objective of cleaning up our rivers and lakes," Ashley told the House Public Works Committee.

Lake Erie, he said, "has been artificially aged some 15,000 years in the past half century by pollution activity."

Dredging activities of the Army engineers since 1960 have resulted in the dumping of more than 40 million cubic yards of polluted materials in disposal areas along the entire U.S. shoreline of the lake, he said.

In some instances, he said, polluted material has been dumped near intakes for municipal water supplies.

Committee members noted that all dredging projects undertaken by Army engineers are authorized by Congress, which generally instructs the engineers to dispose of the material in the least expensive manner and this usually means dumping it into the lakes.

Communities on the Great Lakes ask for deeper harbors and navigation channels, said Rep. Ed Edmondson, D-Okla., "You have to have dredging if you are going to have channels and harbors—it's a choice between changing the channel or the water intake sometimes."

Rep. John Blatnik, D-Minn., said Congress would have to provide necessary funds for other disposal areas.

The committee is considering legislation aimed at preventing water pollution.

Edwin J. Wolf, a Baltimore lawyer testifying in behalf of Chesapeake Bay boat owners, said the federal government should pre-empt the field of regulating waste disposal by vessels on lakes and rivers. Otherwise, he said, there would be a maze of conflicting state laws.

Bills To Halt Discrimination By Realtors

LANSING (AP) — Four bills designed to halt alleged discriminatory practices by suburban real estate agents were introduced in the House Tuesday by Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit. Bradley earlier asked the Michigan Civil Rights Commission to investigate claims that real estate salesmen in suburban Detroit refused to show or sell property to Negro home buyers.

The bills would require realtors to keep logs that would include the names of clients, their race and the final disposition of the transaction. The logs would be available for inspection by the Civil Rights Commission, the Negro legislator said.

In addition, the bills would prohibit discriminatory language in listing agreements between brokers and sellers and force all real estate license applicants to agree not to discriminate because of race, creed or national origin.

Another bill introduced would require all successful primary election candidates for the state Legislature, who win a primary election, to submit a copy of their fingerprints.

Rep. Roy Smith, R-Ypsilanti, introduced a bill requiring all high school dropouts under the age of 18 years to forfeit his driver's or chauffeur's license.

The license would be returned after the licensee reached the age of 18 years or returned to school.

Oil Merger Gets Go-Ahead Signal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has given a reluctant and conditional go-ahead to what may be the biggest oil company merger of all time—the consolidation of Atlantic Richfield and Sinclair.

Stringent conditions imposed by the government would allow for future restoration of the two separate companies if court appeals opposing the merger are successful.

The proposed merger, agreed to by the two firms last Oct. 31, would link the nation's 10th and 11th largest oil companies.

At the beginning of 1968, Atlantic Richfield listed assets of $1.9 billion and Sinclair had assets of $1.8 billion.

Rules Hearing On Housing Authority

LANSING (AP) — A public hearing on proposed rules to govern the new State Housing Development Authority will be held March 17 in Lansing, Gov. William Milliken announced today.

The rules would enable the authority to provide staff assistance and noninterest-bearing "seed money" advances to non-profit housing corporations. Funds would be repaid when corporations acquired permanent financing.

The rules also would allow the authority to issue up to $50 million in bonds to provide permanent financing for building housing for low and moderate income families.

Killed Day After His Son's Birth

ROSEVILLE (AP) — A soldier from Roseville killed in Vietnam recently died the day after the birth of his only son, his parents say.

Sgt. Robert J. Frankowiak, 20, suffered a shrapnel wound Feb. 21, but disregarded it and went back into combat and was killed Feb. 28. The dead soldier was his parents' only son.

Pontiac Workers Return To Jobs

PONTIAC (AP) — Negotiations have been adjourned until Friday between the City of Pontiac and about 400 employees, who ended a strike Wednesday under a court order.

Meanwhile, city officials reported that all city services have been returned to normal.

The 140 firemen ended their third brief walkout Wednesday and 350 other city employees returned to work for the first time since Feb. 14.

Negotiators met briefly Wednesday, then recessed to work on contract language. Gordon A. Gregory, a union attorney, said a settlement appeared very close.

Inland Plans For Expansion

Inland Steel Co. has planned a record outlay of $140 million in capital expenditures for expansion and modernization projects in 1969, Chairman Philip D. Block told shareholders. He projected spending in excess of $400 million through 1972. "It is anticipated," Block added, "that additional long term financing will be required, probably during 1969."

Commenting on a more aggressive diversification posture taken last May, Block told the shareholders, "the chief criteria to be applied to possible acquisitions are rate of growth and profitability." He said Inland would "seek and exploit opportunities outside of our traditional spheres of activity."

Last week, Inland and A. O. Smith-Inland Corp. of Milwaukee formalized a joint venture company—A. O. Smith-Inland Inc.—to produce and market powder metal and glass fiber reinforced plastics.

"We continue to be optimistic about the future of steel," Block said. "Although we are currently confronted by serious problems of imports and a cost-price squeeze, we are confident these problems will be solved."

The annual report shows sales totaled $1,073 million, raw steel production 7,015,000 net tons, shipments 4,764,000 tons, and earnings $79 million.

'Look At The Stars': Hoholik Advice To U.P.

"We should stop looking at our shoeleaves and start looking at the stars" were the closing words in an address delivered by Frank S. Hoholik in urging that a concentrated effort be directed to certain problem areas of the Upper Peninsula.

Hoholik, president of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. and U. P. co-chairman of Operation Action, told the 150 persons at a day long Tuesday meeting of UPCA (Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress) in Manistique on Tuesday about the joint agreement reached by UPCA and Operation Action. The two agencies will concentrate their attention on transportation improvement in the U. P. Specifically, the renovation of U. S. 2 as a four-lane artery.

Transportation
"Transportation is the number one need in the Upper Peninsula," Hoholik said. "A considerable portion of the U. P. has no rail transportation while our air transportation is confined to five cities in the upper peninsula. Freight has reached the saturation point leaving our highways as the only avenue available for moving," he continued.

Hoholik added that the present U. S. 2 highway is inadequate with serious overcrowding occurring during the summer months.

Stressing that any program's success depends on careful planning, he said that action should be initiated locally—by those who live and work in the Upper Peninsula—without depending upon "the government, state or federal, the universities, or waiting for some benevolent individual to come to the U. P. with money."

Dismissing the "prophets of doom" who delight in telling everyone what's wrong with the Upper Peninsula (which has been studied and over-

Senior Citizens Debate Continuance Of Center

Does Manistique want a Senior Citizens Service Center? This topic will be discussed at an Open House-Open Forum at the Senior Citizens Center on Friday night at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to discuss arguments for-and-against the continuation of the existing Center.

"We want to find out where we stand in the public opinion on this question," Center director Richard Marsh explained regarding the purpose of the meeting.

Motor Club Sponsors Snowmobile Derby

The annual Indian Lake Snowmobile Derby will get underway Sunday at Indian Lake under sponsorship of the Emerald City Motor Club.

A full day of snowmobile races is planned with a junior race at 10 a.m. for ages 8 to 14. A Women's Powder Puff event will start at 11:15 a.m. while the men's senior unlimited is scheduled for 12:45 p.m.

All events will be held in the Indian Lake State Park with trophies to be awarded in the junior and women's events and $100 to be divided in each class in the men's races.

Adequate parking is available at the Park but motorists are reminded they must buy car stickers, priced at $1 for the day or $3 for a yearly sticker.

All senior men's race drivers are required to attend a meeting scheduled at 12:15 — one-half hour before starting time for men's events. All machines must be safety checked one hour before the races.

Michigan Snowmobile Association rules will be observed with rear flaps and helmets required equipment.

An entry fee of $5 per machine will be charged with Saturday noon the deadline for advance registration. A late entry fee of $6 will be accepted at the Three Mile Supper Club after noon on Saturday.

Entries may be filed at the following locations: Barnes Hotel, Roy's Standard Service, Top O'Lake Sports and Gifts, Sine's Service Station, Three Mile Supper Club.

Also: Wood's General Tire, Jim's Mobil Service, Vic Beaudry's, Northern Woolens, Creighton Ford and Nelson's 66, all in Manistique.

GLADSTONE

Illness Claims G. P. Cosgrove

George Philip Cosgrove, 74, of Appleton, Wis., a former resident of Gladstone, died early today in Appleton. He had been in failing health for about two years.

Mr. Cosgrove was born July 21, 1894, in Deshler, Ohio, the son of the late Philip and Cecelia Cosgrove. He came to Gladstone with his parents as a boy and lived in Gladstone until moving to Appleton in October, 1954.

He was employed by the Soo Line Railroad, retiring as a conductor on Dec. 31, 1959. He was a veteran of World War I, and a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the American Legion. He also was a member of St. Theresa's Church, Appleton, and the Holy Name Society.

Survivors include his wife, Lottie; three daughters, Bernadine Cosgrove of Appleton, Mrs. Joseph (Eileen) Vuksan of Groos, and Mrs. Richard (Charlene) Lucier of Menasha, Wis.; one son, Philip, of Suitland, Md., and five grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Skradski Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p. m. Friday. Parish prayers will be at 8 p. m. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday at All Saints Church. Burial will be in Fernwood Cemetery.

Inland Plans For Expansion

Inland Steel Co. has planned a record outlay of $140 million in capital expenditures for expansion and modernization projects in 1969. Chairman Philip D. Block told shareholders. He projected spending in excess of $400 million through 1972. "It is anticipated," Block added, "that additional long term financing will be required, probably during 1969."

Commenting on a more aggressive diversification posture taken last May, Block told the shareholders, "the chief criteria to be applied to possible acquisitions are rate of growth and profitability." He said inland would "seek and exploit opportunities outside of our traditional spheres of activity." Last week, Inland and A. O. Smith-Inland Corp. of Milwaukee formalized a joint venture company—A. O. Smith-Inland Inc.—to produce and market powder metal and glass fiber reinforced plastics.

"We continue to be optimistic about the future of steel," Block said. "Although we are currently confronted by various problems of inputs and a cost-price squeeze, we are confident these problems will be solved."

The annual report shows sales totaled $1,073 million, raw steel production 7,015,000 net tons, shipments 4,764,000 tons, and earnings $79 million.

'Look At The Stars': Hoholik Advice To U.P.

"We should stop looking at our shoelaces and start looking at the stars" were the closing words in an address delivered by Frank S. Hoholik in urging that a concentrated effort be directed to certain problem areas of the Upper Peninsula.

Hoholik, president of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. and U. P. co-chairman of Operation Action, told the 150 persons at a day long Tuesday meeting of UPCA (Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress) in Manistique on Tuesday about the joint agreement reached by UPCA and Operation Action. The two agencies will concentrate their attention on transportation improvement in the U. P. Specifically, the renovation of U. S. 2 as a four-lane artery.

Transportation is the number one need in the Upper Peninsula, Hoholik said. "A considerable portion of the U. P. has no rail transportation while our air transportation is confined to five cities in the upper peninsula. Freight has reached the saturation point leaving our highways as the only avenue available for moving," he continued.

Hoholik added that the present U. S. 2 highway is inadequate with serious overcrowding occurring during the summer months. Stressing that any program's success depends on careful planning, he said that action should be initiated locally—by those who live and work in the Upper Peninsula—without depending upon "the government, state or federal, the universities, or waiting for some benevolent individual to come to the U. P. with money."

Motor Club Sponsors Snowmobile Derby

The annual Indian Lake Snowmobile Derby will get underway Sunday at Indian Lake under sponsorship of the Emerald City Motor Club.

A full day of snowmobile races is planned with a junior race at 10 a.m. for ages 8 to 14. A women's Powder Puff event will start at 11:15 a.m. while the men's senior unlimited is scheduled for 12:45 p.m.

All events will be held in the Indian Lake State Park with trophies to be awarded in the junior and women's events and $100 to be divided in each class in the men's races.

Adequate parking is available at the Park but motorists are reminded they must buy car stickers, priced at $1 for the day or $3 for a yearly sticker.

All senior men's race drivers are required to attend a meeting scheduled at 12:15 — one-half hour before starting time for men's events. All machines must be safety checked one hour before the races.

Michigan Snowmobile Association rules will be observed with rear flaps and helmets required equipment.

An entry fee of $5 per machine will be charged with Saturday noon the deadline for advance registration. A late entry fee of $6 will be accepted at the Three Mile Supper Club after noon on Saturday.

Entries may be filed at the following locations: Barnes Hotel, Roy's Standard Service, Top O'Lake Sports and Gifts, Sinc's Service Station, Three Mile Supper Club.

Also: Wood's General Tire, Jim's Mobil Service, Vic Beaudry's, Northern Woolens, Creighton Ford and Nelson's 66, all in Manistique.

Mrs. Duane F. Kasbohm (Gordon Nelson Studio)

Nancy Ann Beauchamp Duane F. Kasbohm Wed

Nancy Anne Beauchamp of Wells became the bride of Duane Francis Kasbohm of LaBranche during a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, March 1 at St. Anthony's Church in Wells.

Officiating at the nuptials at 12 noon was the Rev. Norbert Freiburger. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beauchamp of 907 Main St., Wells and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kasbohm of LaBranche.

Maid of honor for her sister was Carol Jean Beauchamp of Wells and bridesmaids were Louise McDermott of Escanaba, sister of the bride and Janet Kasbohm, LaBranche, sister of the bridegroom.

Serving as bestman for his cousin was Terry Bittner and groomsmen were Richard McDermott and Dale LaPalm. Performing ushering duties were Fred Certo and Bob Mileski.

Satin Organza
The bride wore for her wedding a white satin A-line gown with silk organza overlay designed with lace appliques on the bodice, skirt and long tapered sleeves. Her full length train of scalloped lace was accented with seed pearls.

A forward headpiece of lace petals trimmed with seed pearls secured her illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

The bridal aides were attired in floor length A-line gowns of yellow rayon chiffon fashioned with a satin wedding ring collar and flowing back panel. Forward headpieces of clustered daisies and pearls held their circular nylon veils and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow and bronze carnations.

Mothers' Attire
Mrs. Beauchamp wore for her daughter's wedding, a black dress with matching accessories and was presented a carnation corsage. Mrs. Kasbohm selected a blue dress also with matching accessories and she pinned a corsage of shaded blue carnations.

The reception was held at Potvin's Fireside Room in Schaffer from 4 to 8 p.m. Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside in Escanaba. The bride is a 1967 graduate of Escanaba Area High School and her husband is a 1966 graduate of Powers-Spalding High School.

Mrs. E. Kallio Honored On Retirement

Mrs. Esther Kallio of Chatham was guest of honor at a retirement dinner on Sunday evening at the Zion Lutheran Church. The dinner, attended by 32 persons, was prepared and served by the Ruth Circle of the Zion Lutheran Church.

The dinner was sponsored by the Chatham Telephone Company of Chatham. Mrs. Kallio began working as a telephone operator while she was a teenager and was employed after school hours.

At that time the switchboard was located on a balcony in the store building in Chatham owned by C. C. Brown. The building was later destroyed by fire. At that time, the telephone company was a private company owned by Mr. Brown. Telephone service was available only during the day and until 10 p.m.

Mrs. Kallio was later promoted by the Chatham Telephone Company to chief operator. In 1955, when the company went to the dial system, Mrs. Kallio remained in the office.

The program opened with the invocation by the Rev. David Hollender and William Bucholtz, manager of the Chatham Telephone Company, addressed the group. Mrs. William Bucholtz also presented two vocal solos.

Larry Ollila, of the telephone board, presented Mrs. Kallio with a corsage and a gift from the company. The program closed with the benediction by the Rev. Hollender.

Among those attending were the telephone employees and their husbands and wives, the telephone board members and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. William Bucholtz, the Rev. and Mrs. David Hollender, and the following members of Mrs. Kallio's family: Rev. and Mrs. Harold Kallio, of Mellon, Wis.; Mrs. Tynne Sturvis, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kallio, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, and Mrs. Glen Goin, Jr.

Mrs. Duane F. Kasbohm (Gordon Nelson Studio)

Nancy Ann Beauchamp Duane F. Kasbohm Wed

Nancy Anne Beauchamp of groomsman were Richard McDermott and Dale LaPalm. Performing ushering duties were Fred Certo and Bob Mileski.

Satin Organza
The bride wore for her wedding a white satin A-line gown with silk organza overlay designed with lace appliques on the bodice, skirt and long tapered sleeves. Her full length train of scalloped lace was accented with seed pearls.

A forward headpiece of lace petals trimmed with seed pearls secured her illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

The bridesmaids were attired in floor length A-line gowns of yellow rayon chiffon fashioned with a satin wedding ring collar and flowing back panel.

Forward headpieces of clustered daisies and pearls held their circular nylon veils and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow and bronze carnations.

Mothers Attire
Mrs. Beauchamp wore for her daughter's wedding, a black dress with matching accessories and was presented a corsage corsage. Mrs. Kasbohm selected a blue dress also with matching accessories and she pinned a corsage of shaded blue carnations.

The reception was held at Potvin's Fireside Room in Schaffer from 4 to 8 p. m. Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside in Escanaba.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Escanaba Area High School and her husband is a 1968 graduate of Powers-Spalding High School.

Mrs. E. Kallio Honored On Retirement

Mrs. Esther Kallio of Chatham was guest of honor at a retirement dinner on Sunday evening at the Zion Lutheran Church. The dinner, attended by 32 persons, was prepared and served by the Ruth Circle of the Zion Lutheran Church.

The dinner was sponsored by the Chatham Telephone Company of Chatham. Mrs. Kallio began working as a telephone operator while she was a teenager and was employed after school hours.

At that time the switchboard was located on a balcony in the store building in Chatham owned by C. C. Brown. The building was later destroyed by fire. At that time, the telephone company was a private company owned by Mr. Brown. Telephone service was available only during the day and until 10 p. m.

Mrs. Kallio was later promoted by the Chatham Telephone Company to chief operator. In 1955, when the company went to the dial system, Mrs. Kallio remained in the office.

The program opened with the invocation by the Rev. David Hollender and William Bucholtz, manager of the Chatham Telephone Company, addressed the group. Mrs. William Bucholtz also presented two vocal solos.

Larry Ollila, of the telephone board, presented Mrs. Kallio with a corsage and a gift from the company. The program closed with the benediction by the Rev. Hollender.

Among those attending were the telephone employees and their husbands and wives, the telephone board members and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. William Bucholtz, the Rev. and Mrs. David Hollender, and the following members of Mrs. Kallio's family: Rev. and Mrs. Harold Kallio, of Mellon, Wis.; Mrs. Tyne Sturvis, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kallio, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, and Mrs. Glen Goin, Jr.

Isabella Circle Meets Monday

The regular business meeting of Trinity Circle 362, Daughters of Isabella will be held Monday, March 10 at the Teamster's Hall.

New Christ The King Church To Be Dedicated Sunday

CHRIST THE KING Lutheran Church, 1230 N. 18th St. (Daily Press Photos)

Invite Public To Open House

Open house at the new Christ The King Lutheran Church, 1230 N. 18th St., Escanaba will be held Sunday, March 9. Coffee will be served to the public from 2:30 to 3:45 p. m., followed by dedication services at 4 p. m.

Dr. Theodore E. Matson, president of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Synod of the Lutheran Church in America will perform the rite of dedication and deliver the sermon. Over 60 clergymen and wives from Delta County and surrounding areas as well as Sisters, Brothers and Priests from the Roman Catholic Church have made reservations for the special services and the dinner following.

The new church covers an area of over 12,000 square feet. The general construction contract amounted to $166,276 or approximately $13.07 per square foot. The total project cost of the building including architectural fees, and all furnishings and equipment will be $202,360.

Altar Hand Carved

The new church covering three lots and blending well with the residential area at a moderate cost was designed by Daverman Associates, architects from Grand Rapids, Mich. The general contractor supervising all construction was Howard Herrild Construction Co., Marinette, Wis. The electrical contractor was Kobas Electric Co. of Escanaba, and plumbing and heating was done by the Berger Robinson Co. of Escanaba.

A rough hewn cross of African mahogany stands prominently alongside the altar, designed to appear as though it were growing out of the floor eight feet in height.

The altar is hand-carved with the scriptural inscription from Isaiah 40: verse 8 which reads: "The grass withers, the flowers fade, but the word of our God will stand forever." The altar has been designed so that it also serves as pulpit for Word and Sacrament. All pews are beautifully designed and finely upholstered for comfort and wearability. The furnishings were designed especially for the church by the Ossit Church Furniture Co. of Janesville, Wis.

All classrooms, corridors, church offices, Library-Lounge and most of the church proper were carpeted by the Heynssen Carpet and Furniture Sales of Escanaba. The church has a sound system making it possible for several hundred in adjoining rooms to hear the worship service. The Fellowship Hall also has a sound system for use by banquet speakers and on other occasions, installed by Foster Electronics of Escanaba. The new Conn electronic pipe organ and exterior chime system adds beauty and quality for the congregation's choir, and a harmonizing Everrett piano completes the musical needs of the church proper. Piano and organ were installed by the Delta Music Center of Escanaba.

Worship Service

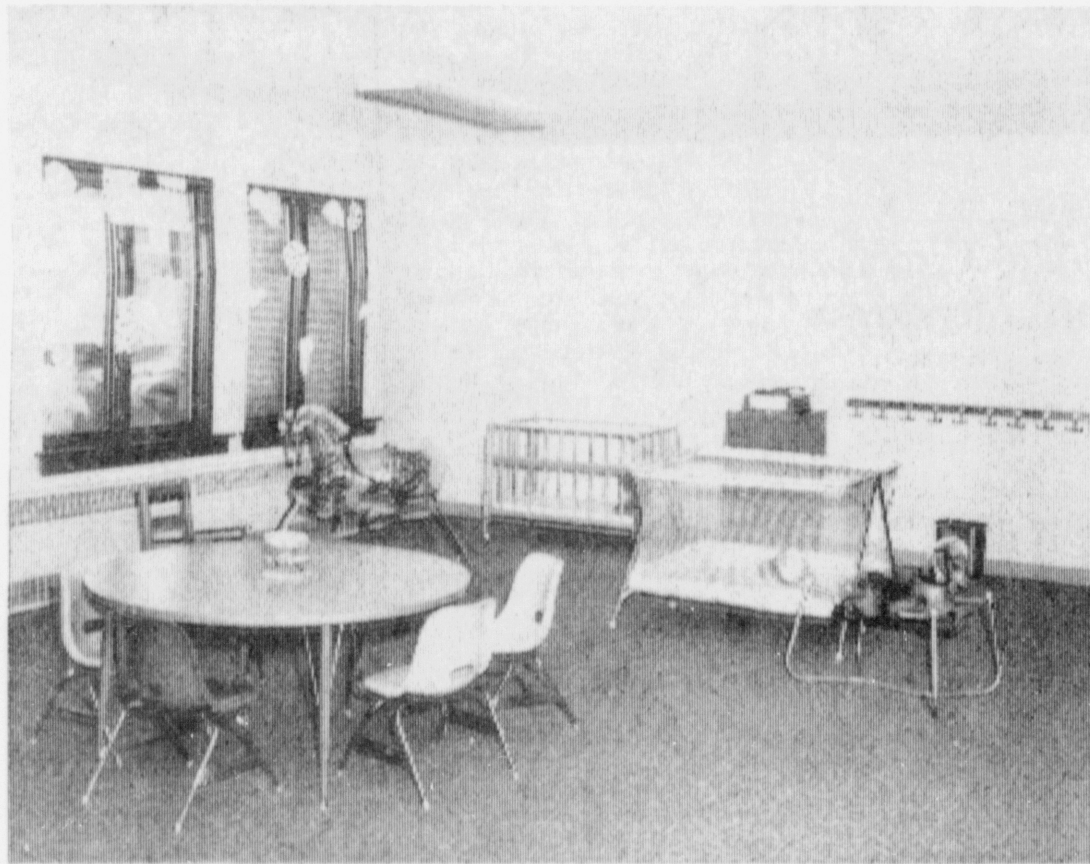

Painting throughout the church was done by the Charles Parrett Paint Decorators of Bark River. The completely equipped kitchen facilities were designed and installed by the Ness Kitchen Sales of Escanaba.

The congregation has through the years accumulated over $70,000 in savings before building was completed thereby making it necessary to borrow only $100,000 over an eight to 10 year period. Financing was handled through Escanaba's three local banks.

Last year, Christ The King Lutheran Church received over $50,000 in offerings from its 384 confirmed members. It is expected that during 1969 offerings will far surpass this amount, and that membership

THE ENTRANCEWAY combines modern and traditional styling.

CHILDREN'S NURSERY is a part of the new church facilities.

Linder & Sons Granted Franchise

Clement Linder & Sons, Nadeau, have been named Oliver Corp.'s farm equipment dealer for the Delta and Menominee county area. Clement Linder is well known throughout the Nadeau area. He has operated his business at the present location for 42 years, 30 of which has been in the farm machinery business. He is treasurer of the Carney-Nadeau Public Schools and also is engaged in an extensive farming operation.

Milliken Fund Party Planned

DETROIT — Gov. William G. Milliken will celebrate his birthday with a capacity crowd "Beefsteak Party" being staged by friends of the governor at Detroit's Latin Quarter, March 26.

The party will be limited to 350 couples, with admission set at $100 per couple. Adams explained that funds raised at the party will be placed in a fund to be used to promote and assist the Governor's political activities.

A similar party held for Milliken last year drew more than 1,000 guests.

will also increase, said Pastor Erland Carlson.

Church worship services are at 8 and 10:30 a. m. on Sundays with Church School at 9:15 a. m.

All new furniture for classrooms is now in use. Furniture for offices, lounge, and other areas as well as draperies for all rooms, has been ordered or is in the process of being ordered. Additional cabinetry and other new equipment will further enhance the beauty of this new church.

Copper Income In State Rises

LANSING — Michigan's 1968 mineral production rose to a new value record totaling nearly $610 million, according to a preliminary estimate recently released by the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

The overall figure, up about $15 million from the previous high set in 1967, was projected from records kept by the Department of Natural Resources' Geological Survey Division.

Accounting for this upturn were gains made by 15 of 21 mineral categories reported. Copper production made the biggest advance — from $44.7 million in 1967 to $62.7 million last year — to more than offset re-

H.S. Seniors Can Join Guard Unit

Lt. Col. Austin E. Lindberg, commander of the 107th Army Combat Engineer Battalion of Ishpeming, announces a change in recruiting for the National Guard. High school seniors may now enlist in the Guard while attending school and be deferred for 120 days before reporting for their six months of active duty training.

High school seniors now have a high priority and in some cases may be enlisted immediately, pending the number of vacancies that now exist, Lindberg said. Those who are not enlisted immediately will be placed on a waiting list and called when openings occur.

National Guard requirements for recruits are: the individual must be 17 years of age, a high school senior, physically fit, and pass minimum standards on various tests.

ductions in iron ore shipments and lime returns.

Although it slipped about $15 million from the previous year, iron ore held firm as the state's mainstay for mineral values with a figure of $147.7 million for 1968. Iron ore pellets accounted for 76 per cent of that industry's shipments, estimated at 12.7 million long tons as against 14.1 million in 1967. Two years ago, production from iron ore beneficiation plants figured for 73 per cent of these shipments.

Following iron ore last year with the next highest production values were cement, $103.4 million; copper, $62.7 million; sand and gravel, $52 million; salt $43.4 million; crude petroleum, $38.8 million; magnesium compounds, $28.3 million and stone, $26.4 million.

Carrying a collective value of $59.7 million were natural brines containing calcium and magnesium chlorides, bromine, gem stones, iodine and potassium salts.

Remaining minerals and their 1968 values include lime, $19.7 million; natural gas, $10.3 million; natural gas liquids, $6.7 million; gypsum, $5.3 million; clays, $2.9 million and peat, $2.3 million.

Body Under Ice

DETROIT (AP) — The body of a girl, apparently 17 to 18 years of age, was found floating beneath a thin layer of ice in a canal on Detroit's Lower East Side Tuesday.

Police were called to the area when neighbors reported hearing someone scream for help.

Manistique Harbor Job Given State's Approval

By BARBARA JOHNSON

MANISTIQUE — This city got official word Wednesday night that its harbor renovation proposal has been approved by the Michigan Waterways Commission. Total project cost approved is $250,000 — an increase of $13,000 over previous estimates.

Keith Wilson of Lansing, administrator of the commission, told Manistique city council last night that his department approved "the concept of the proposal" which means that minor revisions may be incorporated into the project.

Approval by the Waterways Commission, an agency of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, guarantees 40 per cent state funding. Wilson said that he doubted that the harbor would be operational until June of 1970.

Seek EDA Aid

The next step, Wilson told council, is to query the regional Economic Development Administration in Iron River as to whether it will accept an application for 50 per cent federal funding of the program.

The city is obligated to contribute 10 per cent of the total project cost, or $25,000.

To qualify for an EDA grant, the city will have to conduct a survey and show that the harbor development will produce 8 or 9 new jobs.

Manistique is classified as an 80 per cent grant area, which means that one new job must be created for each $15,000 of federal money invested in the program.

Reduce City Share

The city will also query EDA on possible reduction in city financial participation. Included in the project is a $10,000 item for demolition of fish shacks, a yacht club building, rock piles, etc., on the harbor's east side.

If the city were allowed to perform the demolition and have the $10,000 credited as an in-kind contribution, in lieu of money, the city participation would be reduced to $15,000.

The city must also secure three acres of land on the west side of the harbor owned by the Manistique Industrial Development Committee, a group of private citizens.

The city will also discuss the possibility of including test boring in floor rock in the east harbor area as a possible works project arrangement.

Sports Facilities

Plans call for an east side marina development, while the west side harbor will be developed as a boat launching site with parking for 72 cars. A new access road to the west side harbor is included.

Answering questions from Coast Guard Auxiliary and Manistique Yacht Club members, Wilson said a yacht club at the east side harbor on city property, would not be compatible, but one adjacent would be acceptable.

Only one or two sports fishing charter boats would be allowed in the marina and then only under certain conditions: the commission would not encourage a private marine service at the harbor; and no pull-out ramp will be installed on the west side since this service should be a private investment.

Unearth Bodies Of 3 Women

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — The dismembered bodies of two young women and the possible remains of a third have been unearthed in a woodland area where the corpse of an unidentified teen-age girl was found on Feb. 4.

Dist. Atty Edmund Dinis said a Provincetown carpenter, Antonio Costa, 25, was arrested in Boston and charged with murder soon after the bodies were dug up Wednesday.

Dinis identified the victims as Patricia Walsh, 23, a school teacher, and Mary Ann Wysocki, 23, a Rhode Island college senior, both of Providence, R.I. They were buried 300 yards from the spot where the other girl's body was found.

Friends since high school, Miss Walsh and Miss Wysocki were reported missing six weeks ago. It was while seeking them that police earlier found the teen-age girl.

Stocks Move To Downside

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market eased to the downside early today and erased a slim early advantage gains had held over losses.

The advances, which had led by a dozen issues or so at the opening, fell back as trading progressed. After an hour, declines held a better than 2-to-1 edge—784 to 348.

At 11 a.m. the Dow Jones industrial average was off 5.53 points, or 0.59 per cent, at 917.58.

Volume at the end of the first hour was 3.38 million, compared with 3.91 million in the same period Wednesday.

Raymond C. Carlson, 18, of Cornell Rte. 1, charged with being a minor in possession of beer, today was ordered in Delta District Court to pay fine and costs within 30 days or serve four days in jail. The fine is $25 and costs $13.50. Escanaba police took Carlson and a juvenile boy, 16, into custody at 1:12 a.m. today after a routine traffic check of Carlson's car in the 400 block, N. 23rd St. The juvenile, who is on juvenile court probation, was referred to that court.

New Christ The King Church To Be Dedicated Sunday

CHRIST THE KING Lutheran Church, 1230 N. 18th St. (Daily Press Photos)

Invite Public To Open House

Open house at the new Christ The King Lutheran Church, 1230 N. 18th St., Escanaba, will be held Sunday, March 9. Coffee will be served to the public from 2:30 to 3:45 p. m., followed by dedication services at 4 p. m.

Dr. Theodore E. Matson, president of the Wisconsin-Superior Michigan Synod of the Lutheran Church in America will perform the rite of dedication and deliver the sermon. Over 60 clergymen and wives from Delta County and surrounding areas as well as Sisters, Brothers and Priests from the Roman Catholic Church have made reservations for the special services and the dinner following.

The new church covers an area of over 12,000 square feet. The general construction contract amounted to $166,276 or approximately $13.07 per square foot. The total project cost of the building including architectural fees, and all furnishings and equipment will be $202,360.

Altar Hand Carved

The new church covering three lots and blending well with the residential area at a moderate cost was designed by Daverman Associates, architects from Grand Rapids, Mich. The general contractor supervising all construction was Howard Herrild Construction Co., Marinette, Wis. The electrical contractor was Kobas Electric Co. of Escanaba, and plumbing and heating was done by the Berger Robinson Co. of Escanaba.

A rough hewn cross of African mahogany stands prominently alongside the altar, designed to appear as though it were growing out of the floor eight feet in height.

The altar is hand-carved with the scriptural inscription from Isaiah 40: verse 8 which reads: "The grass withers, the flowers fade, but the word of our God will stand forever." The altar has been designed so that it also serves as pulpit for Word and Sacrament. All pews are beautifully designed and finely upholstered for comfort and wearability. The furnishings were designed especially for the church by the Ossit Church Furniture Co. of Jamesville, Wis.

All classrooms, corridors, church offices, library-lounge and most of the church proper were carpeted by the Heynssen Carpet and Furniture Sales of Escanaba. The church has a sound system making it possible for several hundred in adjoining rooms to hear the worship service. The Fellowship Hall also has a sound system for use by banquet speakers and on other occasions, installed by Foster Electronics of Escanaba. The new Conn electronic pipe organ and exterior chime system adds beauty and quality for the congregation's choir, and a harmonizing Everrett piano completes the musical needs of the church proper. Piano and organ were installed by the Delta Music Center of Escanaba.

Worship Service

Painting throughout the church was done by the Charles Parrett Paint Decorators of Bark River. The completely equipped kitchen facilities were designed and installed by the Ness Kitchen Sales of Escanaba.

The congregation has through the years accumulated over $70,000 in savings before building was completed thereby making it necessary to borrow only $100,000 over an eight to 10 year period. Financing was handled through Escanaba's three local banks.

Last year, Christ The King Lutheran Church received over $50,000 in offerings from its 384 confirmed members. It is expected that during 1969 offerings will far surpass this amount, and that membership

Linder & Sons Granted Franchise

Clement Linder & Sons, Nadeau, have been named Oliver Corp.'s farm equipment dealer for the Delta and Menominee county area. Clement Linder is well known throughout the Nadeau area. He has operated his business at the present location for 42 years, 30 of which has been in the farm machinery business. He is treasurer of the Carney-Nadeau Public Schools and also is engaged in an extensive farming operation.

Milliken Fund Party Planned

DETROIT — Gov. William G. Milliken will celebrate his birthday with a capacity crowd "Beelsteak Party" being staged by friends of the governor at Detroit's Latin Quarter, March 26.

The party will be limited to 350 couples, with admission set at $100 per couple. Adams explained that funds raised at the party will be placed in a fund to be used to promote and assist the Governor's political activities.

A similar party held for Milliken last year drew more than 1,000 guests.

will also increase, said Pastor Erlend Carlson.

Church worship services are at 8 and 10:30 a. m. on Sundays with Church School at 9:15 a. m.

All new furniture for classrooms is now in use. Furniture for offices, lounge, and other areas as well as draperies for all rooms, has been ordered or is in the process of being ordered. Additional cabinetry and other new equipment will further enhance the beauty of this new church.

Copper Income In State Rises

LANSING — Michigan's 1968 mineral production rose to a new value record totaling nearly $610 million, according to a preliminary estimate recently released by the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

The overall figure, up about $15 million from the previous high set in 1967, was projected from records kept by the Department of Natural Resources' Geological Survey Division.

Accounting for this upturn were gains made by 15 of 21 mineral categories reported. Copper production made the biggest advance — from $14.7 million in 1967 to $62.7 million last year — to more than offset reductions in iron ore shipments and lime returns.

Although it slipped about $15 million from the previous year, iron ore held firm as the state's mainstay for mineral values with a figure of $147.7 million for 1968. Iron ore pellets accounted for 76 per cent of that industry's shipments, estimated at 12.7 million long tons as against 14.1 million in 1967. Two years ago, production from iron ore beneficiation plants figured for 73 per cent of these shipments.

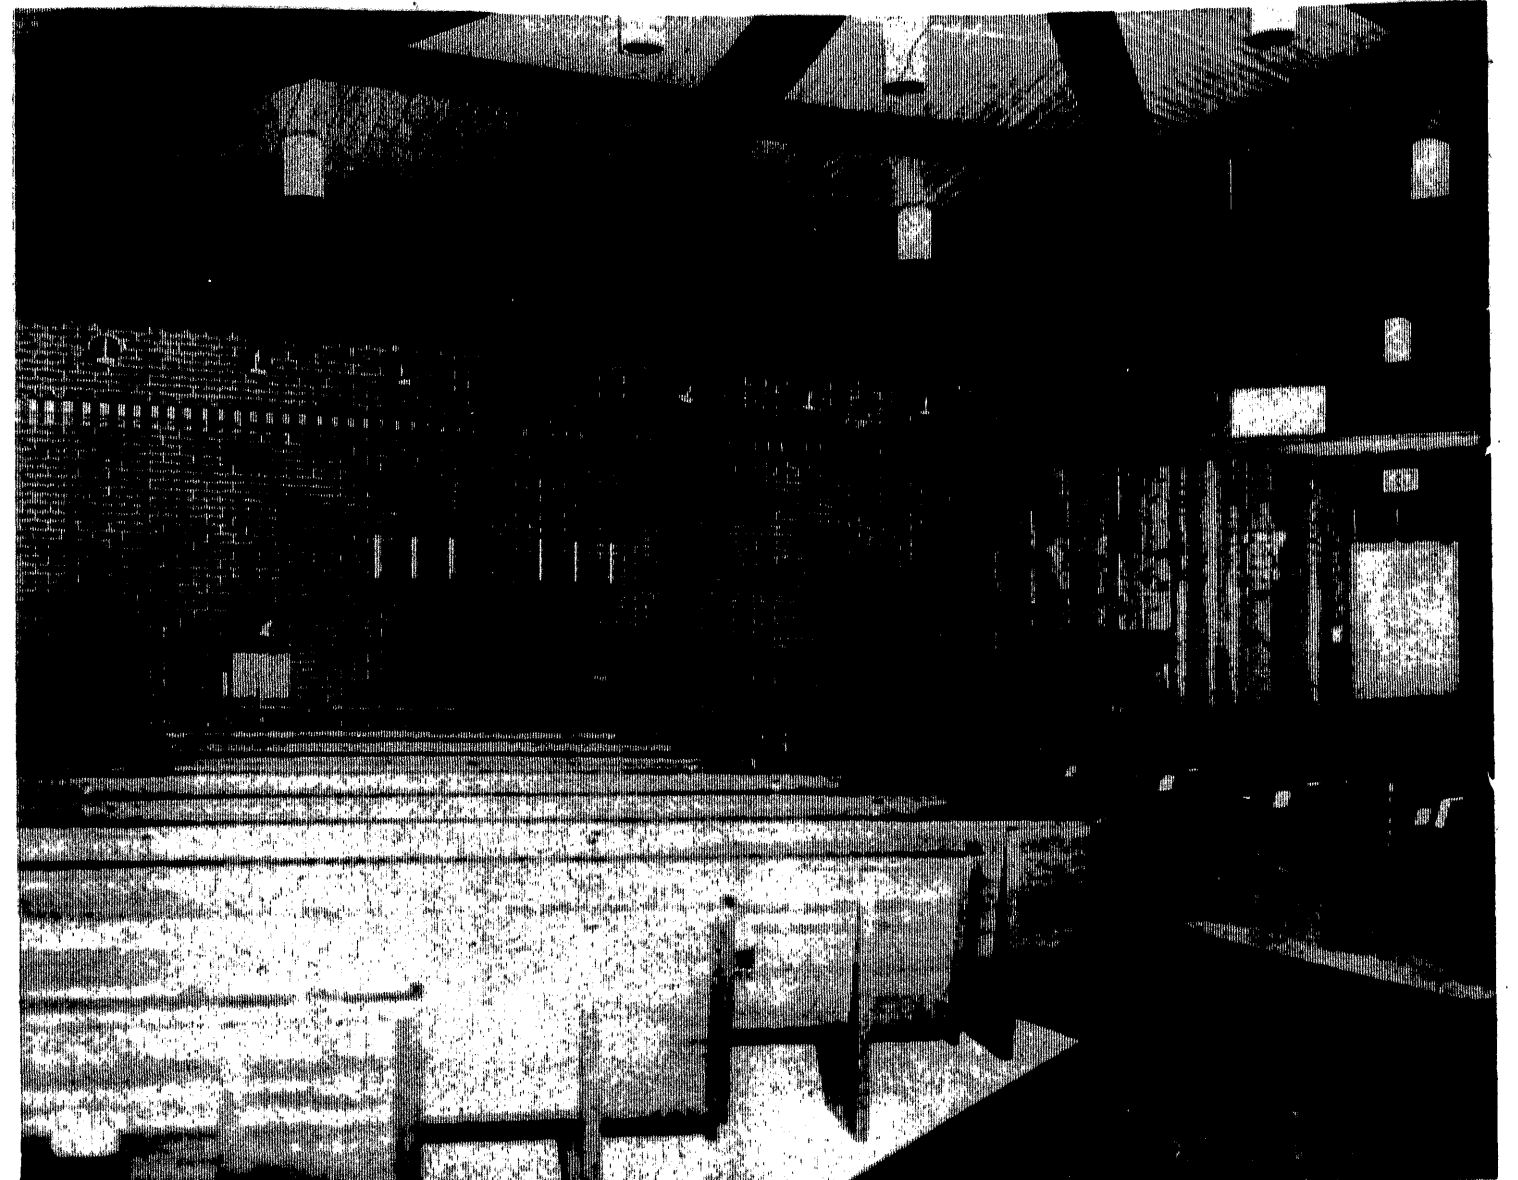

Following iron ore last year with the next highest production values were cement, $103.4 million; copper, $62.7 million; sand and gravel, $52 million; salt, $43.4 million; crude petroleum, $38.8 million; magnesium compounds, $28.3 million and stone, $26.4 million.

Carrying a collective value of $59.7 million were natural brines containing calcium and magnesium chlorides, bromine, gem stones, iodine and potassium salts.

Remaining minerals and their 1968 values include lime, $19.7 million; natural gas, $10.3 million; natural gas liquids, $6.7 million; gypsum, $5.3 million; clays, $2.9 million and peat, $2.3 million.

High school seniors now have a high priority and in some cases may be enlisted immediately, pending the number of vacancies that now exist, Lindberg said. Those who are not enlisted immediately will be placed on a waiting list and called when openings occur.

National Guard requirements for recruits are: the individual must be 17 years of age, a high school senior, physically fit, and pass minimum standards on various tests.

Manistique Harbor Job Given State's Approval

By BARBARA JOHNSON

MANISTIQUE — This city got official word Wednesday night that its harbor renovation proposal has been approved by the Michigan Waterways Commission. Total project cost approved is $250,000 — an increase of $13,000 over previous estimates.

Keith Wilson of Lansing, administrator of the commission, told Manistique city council last night that his department approved "the concept of the proposal" which means that minor revisions may be incorporated into the project.

Approval by the Waterways Commission, an agency of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, guarantees 40 per cent state funding. Wilson said that he doubted that the harbor would be operational until June of 1970.

Seek EDA Aid

The next step, Wilson told council, is to query the regional Economic Development Administration in Iron River as to whether it will accept an application for 50 per cent federal funding of the program.

The city is obligated to contribute 10 per cent of the total project cost, or $25,000.

To qualify for an EDA grant, the city will have to conduct a survey and show that the harbor development will produce 8 or 9 new jobs.

Manistique is classified as an 80 per cent grant area, which means that one new job must be created for each $15,000 of federal money invested in the program.

Reduce City Share

The city will also query EDA on possible reduction in city financial participation. Included in the project is a $10,000 item for demolition of fish shacks, a yacht club building, rock piles, etc., on the harbor's east side.

If the city were allowed to perform the demolition and have the $10,000 credited as an in-kind contribution, in lieu of money, the city participation would be reduced to $15,000.

The city must also secure three acres of land on the west side of the harbor owned by the Manistique Industrial Development Committee, a group of private citizens.

The city will also discuss the possibility of including test boring in floor rock in the east harbor area as a possible works project arrangement.

Sports Facilities

Plans call for an east side marina development, while the west side harbor will be developed as a boat launching site with parking for 72 cars. A new access road to the west side harbor is included.

Answering questions from Coast Guard Auxiliary and Manistique Yacht Club members, Wilson said a yacht club at the east side harbor on city property, would not be compatible, but one adjacent would be acceptable.

Only one or two sports fishing charter boats would be allowed in the marina and then only under certain conditions: the commission would not encourage a private marine service at the harbor; and no pull-out ramp will be installed on the west side since this service should be a private investment.

Kenneth Buckland of Northern Michigan Engineers, whose firm conducted a preliminary engineering survey of the harbor, and Harold A. Beaton of Manistique, federal district attorney at Grand Rapids, attended the meeting.

"Everybody down here is happy with the way the day has gone and wants to congratulate you for an outstanding job," the message read.

Hotel Presence Mistake: Sirhan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan says his presence at the hotel where he shot and killed Robert F. Kennedy was an accident—due to his mistaken reading of a newspaper advertisement the day of the slaying last June.

The advertisement announced a pro-Israel parade, the "Miracle March for Israel" marking the first anniversary of the six-day war between the Jews and the Arabs in 1967.

The parade was scheduled for the next day but Sirhan, a Jordanian-born Arab, testified at his murder trial Wednesday he thought it was that night.

He said upon reading the announcement "The fire started burning inside me" and he set off for downtown Los Angeles "driving like a maniac."

"Did you have in mind to shoot Kennedy at that time?" asked defense counsel Grant B. Cooper.

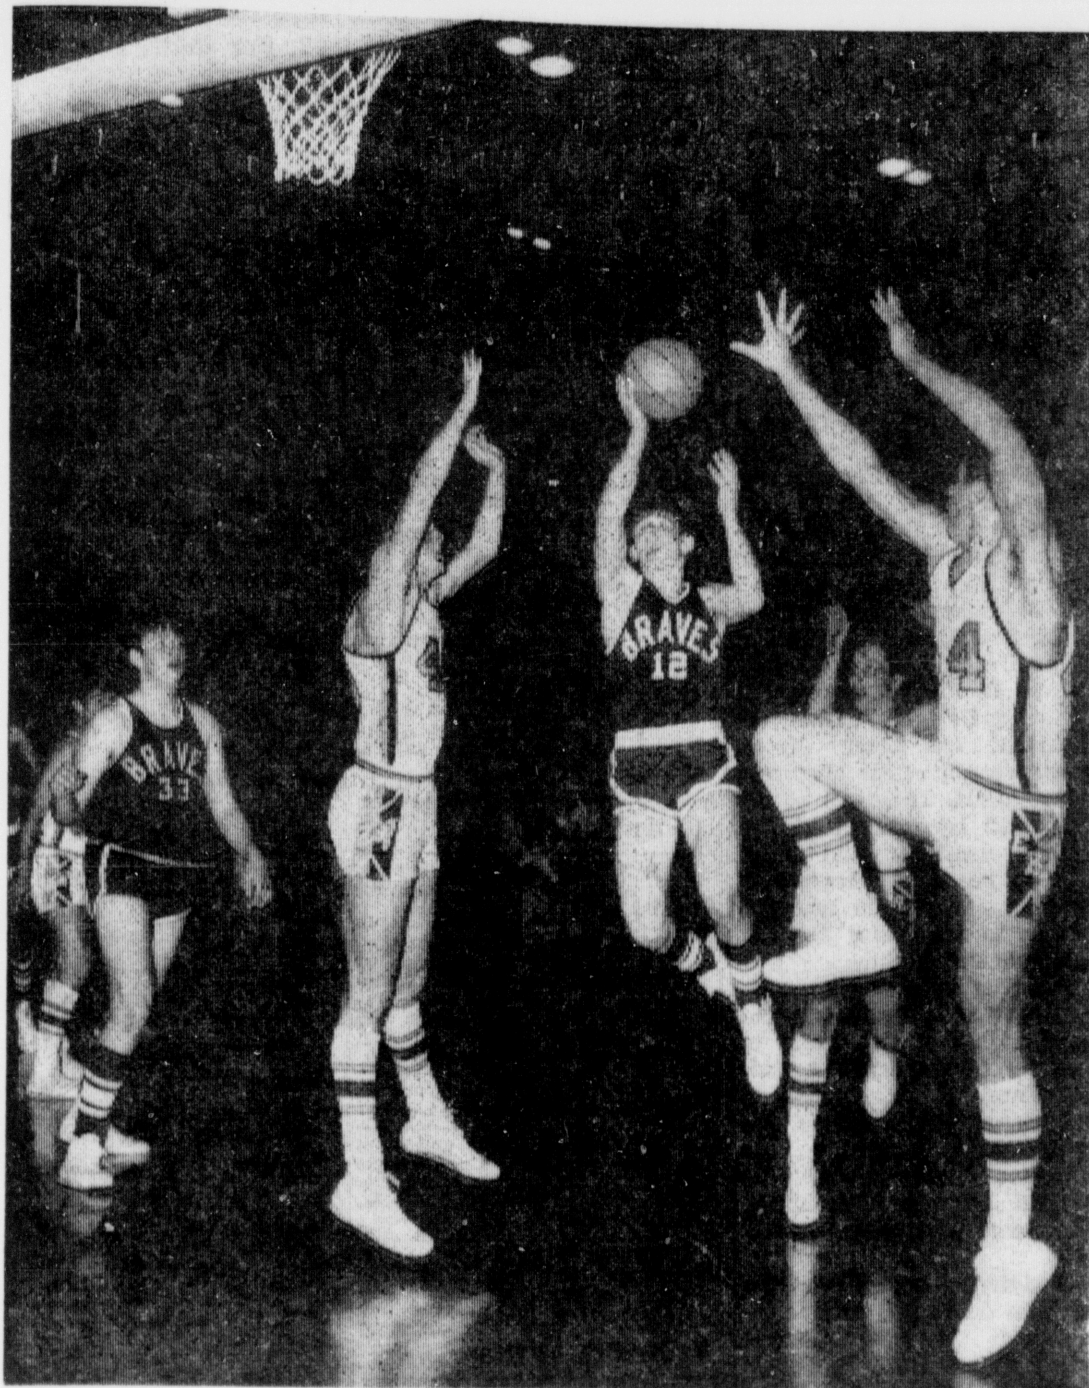

"No, sir, I did not," Sirhan said.

Sirhan said he had come from the back seat of his car a few blocks away, Sirhan said. At this point in his testimony court adjourned for the day at Cooper's request.

Braves Upend Crusaders In Class B Tourney Tilt

Wednesday Result
Gladstone 72, Holy Name 67
Game Friday
8-Gladstone vs. Manistique

The game so many basketball fans in the Gladstone and Escanaba areas have been waiting to see since January 24 became a reality last night at the Holy Name High School gymnasium in Class B district tournament play.

Holy Name and Gladstone met twice during the regular season and split, Gladstone winning the first in a triple overtime thriller December 10 and Holy Name taking the second by eight points on January 24. Basketball fans from the area were all saying, "Wait until the two meet in tournament play."

Well, last night the two did meet in tournament play and the Gladstone quint came out on the top end of the score, 72-67, to gain the right to meet the Manistique Emeralds in the championship game Friday night at 8, the winner going on to regional play at Marquette next week.

Last night's game started out looking like it would be the same kind of thrilling contest the first two clashes between the teams were. The lead changed hands seven times during the first quarter while Steve Nelson, Cliff Young and Eric Treichel of the Braves engaged in scoring duel with Terry Dufour and Steve Fisher of the Crusaders. Dufour finished the period with 10 points and Treichel and Young paced Gladstone with six points each.

Gladstone started to press in the second quarter which caused the Crusaders to turn the ball over on floor mistakes while going behind by as many as 16 points during the period. John Watson, the big center for the Braves, paced the scoring parade in the quarter with seven points. Gladstone hit on 19 of 31 field goals in the first half while Holy Name could only manage 12 of 42.

The Crusaders started to move in the third period but the Braves were still hot from the field and could only cut the gap to 14 points by the end of the period although coming to within 12 at one point during play.

The Holy Name rally was still alive in the fourth quarter as Dufour and sophomore

Joe Harvey kept tossing points to put the Braves in scoring range. The Braves only hit two field goals in the quarter but connected on eight of 11 free throw attempts to sew up the victory. Holy Name got within eight points at one point but the Braves were hitting at the free throw line and the big lead couldn't be topped.

Young led five Gladstone starters in double figures with 21 points besides playing an excellent floor game both offensively and defensively. Other Braves to hit double figures in the well-balanced scoring attack were Nelson with 14 points, Mark Weber 13, Watson 12 and Treichel 10. Weber and Young were particularly outstanding near the end of the game with their fine ball-handling.

Dufour topped all scorers in the game with 24 points while ending a tremendous high school career. Harvey and Fisher were also in double figures with 13 and 11 points respectively.

Holy Name topped the Braves in the rebounding department, 54-32, with Harvey picking off 19 and Dufour chipping in with 10. Nelson was the top Gladstone rebounder with 10.

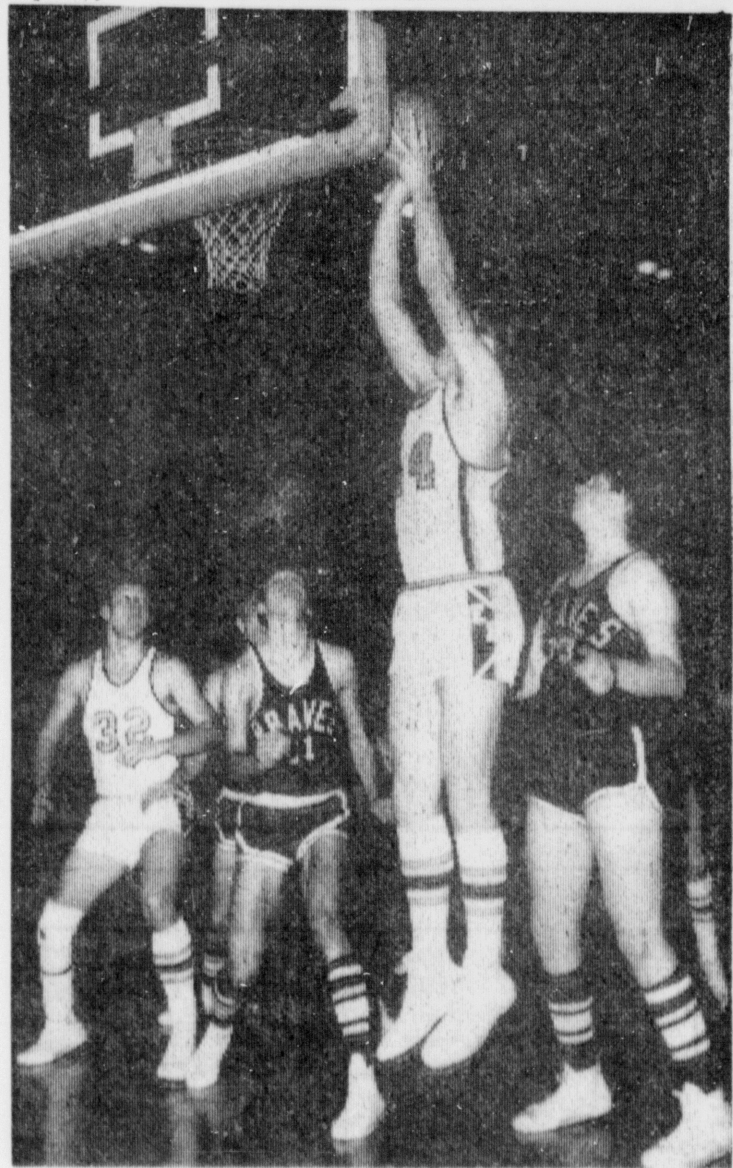

The Braves were hot from the field throughout the game, hitting 28 of 53 field goal attempts for 53 per cent, while Holy Name hit on 28 of 75 shots from the outside for 37 per cent. The difference in the score came at the free throw line where Gladstone made 16 of 26 attempts and Holy Name dropped in 11 of 22.

Radatz Sparkles During Tiger Intrasquad Game

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) —The Monster took his first giant step Wednesday and with a couple more he may make the journey from Toledo to Detroit.

Dick Radatz, relief specialist who was nicknamed the Monster when he pitched for the Boston Red Sox, retired the 12 batters he faced as the Detroit Tigers played their second intrasquad game of the spring training season.

A year ago Radatz threw 26 balls in a row during a similar game with the Chicago Cubs and ended up with Toledo, Detroit's International League farm club.

"If I throw like I did today but with a little more velocity there's a place for me with the Tigers," he said.

Manager Mayo Smith also was pleased with the performance of the Detroit native.

"He threw the ball pretty good," Smith said. "He was free and loose."

Radatz broke in with Boston

in 1962 and led the American League that year in games played as a pitcher (62). He won 31 games in the next two years, none as a starter. And in 1964 he set an AL record for most games finished (67) and most wins as a relief pitcher (16). But he went downhill after that as he lost his control and with it his confidence.

Radatz was in the minor leagues all last year and much of 1967. He started the '67 season with Chicago of the National League and was with Cleveland of the AL for a while before that.

At Toledo last year he had a 6-7 win-loss record and a 2.78 earned run average and, although not on Detroit's 40-man spring training roster this year, the 32-year-old hurler was invited to work out with the team in his comeback bid.

"I wouldn't be here unless I thought I could make it," said the 6-foot-6, 255-pound righthander.

"I've regained my control and

I have my confidence back. "I've got to be optimistic, I can't be pessimistic."

Seven other pitchers took 15-minute turns during the game and because of the unusual and continual lineup changes there was no practical way to keep score.

John Hiller started, followed by Elroy Face, John Wyatt, Radatz, Bob Reed, Mike Kilkenny, George Korinc and Jim Foor. Reed is from Flint, Mich.

Hiller allowed seven runs during his turn but Smith said he was throwing well. Most of the runs were unearned. Smith also praised the throwing of Wyatt and Face.

Meanwhile, Smith said Joe Sparma, Tom Timmerman and Les Cain would pitch in the exhibition opener Friday against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Bradenton. He also said he would mix up the regular Tigers with some of the rookies in the game.

Willie Horton, the lone Tiger holdout, did not report to Lakeland Wednesday, but general manager Jim Campbell conferred with Horton's attorney, Nate Conyers, who arrived Tuesday night. Horton is seeking $100,000 an estimated raise of $60,000 over his salary last year when he hit 36 home runs, drove in 85 runs and had a .285 batting average.

Zaslofsky Quits Nets' Cage Posts

COMMACK, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets, who hope to lure UCLA's towering Lew Alcindor into the American Basketball Association, are looking for a coach and general manager, as well.

Max Zaslofsky, who held both jobs since the team came into being last season as the New Jersey Americans, resigned Wednesday effective at the close of the current campaign.

The Americans tied for last place in the ABA's Eastern Division a year ago and the Nets are a solid last with a 16-46 record and have lost nine in a row. They reportedly acquired the rights to Alcindor in a secret draft.

Piston Cagers Notch Victory Over Knicks

When New York and Detroit made their big National Basketball Association trade last December the Knicks gave up two for one. Wednesday night the two was one too many.

Howard Komives has his best night as a Piston with 30 points and seven assists in Detroit's 128-120 victory over the Knicks. Walt Bellamy, who joined him on the New York-to-Detroit trip, added 21 points and grabbed 15 rebounds, offsetting the 26 points and 21 rebounds for Dave DeBusschere, who traveled the opposite route.

Elsewhere, Chicago moved into the fourth and last playoff spot in the Western Division by three points over San Diego with a 124-108 rout of Milwaukee and San Francisco defeated Baltimore 114-107.

In the ABA, Oakland downed Houston 140-134, Indiana walloped Dallas 131-96, Kentucky bombed New York 123-103 and Los Angeles beat Minnesota 123-118.

Bellamy and Jimmy Walker, who scored 29 points in his most solid performance in weeks, pumped in 12 apiece in the third period as the Pistons stretched a three-point lead to eight. Komives then drilled in 14 in the final quarter to keep the Knicks at bay.

It was a costly defeat for the Knicks, dropping them 1 1/2 games behind second-place

Palmer Teaches Kaline Lesson

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — When Al Kaline visited President Nixon at the White House early last month along with Green Bay Packers quarterback Bart Starr and pro golfer Arnold Palmer, Kaline decided to ask Palmer how he could improve his golf game.

"He's a good friend of mine and he knows I'm not a good golfer," Kaline said Wednesday after a brief spring training workout.

"When I asked him what I could do to improve my golf game, he said 'stay off the course.'"

Skinner Cracking Whip During Spring Training

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Bob Skinner, known as everybody's friend last year as a rookie manager, is cracking the whip this spring in the camp of the Philadelphia Phillies. After a seventh-place finish in 1968 and 18 straight non-winning years the word is—put out or get out.

No club in baseball is working harder this spring than the Phils. They run laps around the new training complex until their tongues hang out. They team up on the exercise machines in a grunt and groan routine that smacks more of a Vince Lombardi drill than a Phillie workout.

"I am a great believer in conditioning," said Skinner during a brief respite in the grind. "We're going to work on the basics and the right attitude. I understand this is rather new with the Phillies."

Skinner, who replaced Gene Mauch last June 15, is well aware of talk about a lack of consistency in discipline and a permissiveness in conditioning last summer.

Youngsters like Don Money, the shortstop the club got from Pittsburgh in the Jim Bunning deal last year, and Larry Hise, the centerfielder of the future, are key men in the 1969 plans.

Money, 21, hit .303 at San Diego where he had nine homers and 59 runs batted in. Hise, also 21, also batted .303 at San Diego. Hise was stricken with hepatitis June 30 and saw no more action but hit six homers in 69 games with the Padres. He has been given a clean bill of health by the medcos.

Much depends on Richie Allen, the sometimes temperamental slugger whose career almost was ended by a serious hand injury in 1967. Although he could swing only one good hand, he slammed 33 homers and drove in 90 runs last year while batting .263.

"Allen is a great player," said Skinner. "He could be the outstanding player in the league. I know there were problems about showing up late and other things but they happened before I came."

Skinner's outfield probably will have Allen in left, Hise in Center and Johnny Callison in right. Ron Stone, acquired from Baltimore in the Clay Delmonico ple deal, is a well-liked outfield prospect. Don Lock also is available.

Deron Johnson will get a shot at first base. Johnson flopped badly at Atlanta last year where he hit only .208 but Skinner hopes he can come back to his old Cincinnati form.

Bill White is in the first base fight with Johnson. If White can make it at 35, Johnson could wind up at third base. Tony Taylor will be either at third or battling Cookie Rojas at second, depending on Johnson. John Briggs, also is listed as a first baseman this year.

With Dalrymple gone, Mike Ryan figures to be the No. 1 catcher, backed up by John Sullivan or Doc Edwards, both now on minor league rosters.

Chris Short is the big man of the pitching staff. Rick Wise, Woody Fryman and Jerry Johnson, a fine '68 rookie, could be the other starters. Gary Wagner, Bill Wilson and Dick Farrell man the bullpen. Rookies due for a long look include Barry Lersch (11-8 at San Diego), Larry Colton (5-15 at San Diego), Lowell Palmer (13-8 at San Diego), Pat Bayless (12-8 at Reading) and Bill Lenton (3-6 at Portland).

Mount, Gilliam Head Big Ten Honor Squad

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue, champion for the first time since 1940, landed scoring titlist Rick Mount and playmaker Herman Gilliam on the 1969 All-Big Ten basketball team named by The Associated Press Thursday.

They were joined by Dave Sorenson of Ohio State; Rudy Tomjanovich, Michigan; and Dave Scholz, Illinois.

Mount, shooting for Big Ten scoring records, and Tomjanovich were unanimous choices. The Associated Press board of sports writers. Sorenson missed unanimity by one vote.

Scholz barely beat out Michigan State's Lee Lafayette for a first team berth in the closest balloting.

Mount and the 6-foot-8 Scholz are holdovers from the 1968 first team. Sorenson and Tomjanovich move up from the 1968 second team.

All members of the first and second teams are among the Big Ten's leading 20 scorers.

Detroit, Boston Tie NHL Contest

By The Associated Press
The usually calm, sophisticated people of Boston jumped like ten tribes of Hippies, and then deluged the hockey ring with dozens of hats, shoes, and even playing cards.

Their star, Phil Esposito, drove them to joy when he made two assists, setting a National Hockey League record and enabling Boston to catch up with and tie Detroit 2-2 Wednesday night.

Gordie Howe's goal and assist for Detroit was lost by Esposito's 62nd and 63rd assists of the season.

Elsewhere Wednesday, Chicago's Bobby Hull scored twice and got his 50th goal as the Black Hawks tied the New York Rangers 4-4, Toronto downed Los Angeles 6-4, Pittsburgh dropped St. Louis 4-2, and Minnesota tagged Oakland 5-2.

The Detroit-Boston tie kept the third place Red Wings one point ahead of New York and three ahead of Toronto in the NHL's Eastern Division scramble. Boston is in first. Chicago is in last place, seven points back of Detroit.

Alex Delvecchio's 15-footer just as a two-man advantage was ending gave Detroit a 1-0 lead at 17:3 of the first period.

Esposito, the NHL's first 100 point scorer, took a long pass from John McKenzie and passed to Johnny Bucyk who scored at 1:3 of the second period.

Howe notched his 38th goal of the season at 1:02 of the third period. But at 6:02, Esposito passed to John McKenzie for the tying goal.

Esposito's feat broke the record of 62 assists set by Chicago's Stan Mikita in 1966-67. A total of 14,659 Boston fans watched the game.

Hull got 50 goals for the fourth time in his 12-year career.

His 50 goals this season gave him 464 for his career and third place on the all-time list, two ahead of Montreal's Jean Beliveau. Only Maurice Richard of Montreal, who scored 544 in 18 seasons, and Detroit's Gordie Howe, who has 726 in 23 seasons, have more career goals than Hull.

Hull's two goals against the Rangers twice tied the score with the record 50th coming at 1:43 of the third period. Then Chico Maki put the Hawks on top but Don Marshall tied it for New York with only 71 seconds left to play.

The only other 50-goal scorers in NHL history were Richard, who had 50 in 50 games in 1944-45 and Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal, who had 50 in 64 games in 1960-61.

Braves Upend Crusaders In Class B Tourney Tilt

Gladstone 72, Holy Name 67
Game Friday
8—Gladstone vs. Manistique

The game so many basketball fans in the Gladstone and Escanaba areas have been waiting to see since January 24 became a reality last night at the Holy Name High School gymnasium in Class B district tournament play.

Holy Name and Gladstone met twice during the regular season and split, Gladstone winning the first in a triple overtime thriller December 10 and Holy Name taking the second by eight points on January 24. Basketball fans from the area were all saying, "Wait until the two meet in tournament play."

Well, last night the two did meet in tournament play and the Gladstone quint came out on the top end of the score, 72-67, to gain the right to meet the Manistique Emeralds in the championship game Friday night at 8, the winner going on to regional play at Marquette next week.

Last night's game started out looking like it would be the same kind of thrilling contest the first two clashes between the teams were. The lead changed hands seven times during the first quarter while Steve Nelson, Cliff Young and Eric Treichel of the Braves engaged in scoring duel with Terry Dufour and Steve Fisher of the Crusaders. Dufour finished the period with 10 points and Treichel and Young paced Gladstone with six points each. Gladstone started to press in the second quarter which caused the Crusaders to turn the ball over on floor mistakes while going behind by as many as 16 points during the period. John Watson, the big center for the Braves, paced the scoring parade in the quarter with seven points. Gladstone hit on 19 of 31 field goals in the first half while Holy Name could only manage 12 of 42.

The Crusaders started to move in the third period but the Braves were still hot from the field and could only cut the gap to 14 points by the end of the period although coming to within 12 at one point during play.

The Holy Name rally was still alive in the fourth quarter as Dufour and sophomore

Joe Harvey kept tossing points to put the Crusaders in scoring range. The Braves only hit two field goals in the quarter but connected on eight of 11 free throw attempts to sew up the victory. Holy Name got within eight points at one point but the Braves were hitting at the free throw line and the big lead couldn't be topped.

Young led five Gladstone starters in double figures with 21 points besides playing an excellent floor game both offensively and defensively. Other Braves to hit double figures in the well-balanced scoring attack were Nelson with 14 points, Mark Weber 13, Watson 12 and Treichel 10. Weber and Young were particularly outstanding near the end of the game with their fine ball-handling.

Dufour topped all scorers in the game with 24 points while ending a tremendous high school career. Harvey and Fisher were also in double figures with 13 and 11 points respectively.

Holy Name topped the Braves in the rebounding department, 54-32, with Harvey picking off 19 and Dufour chipping in with 10. Nelson was the top Gladstone rebounder with 10.

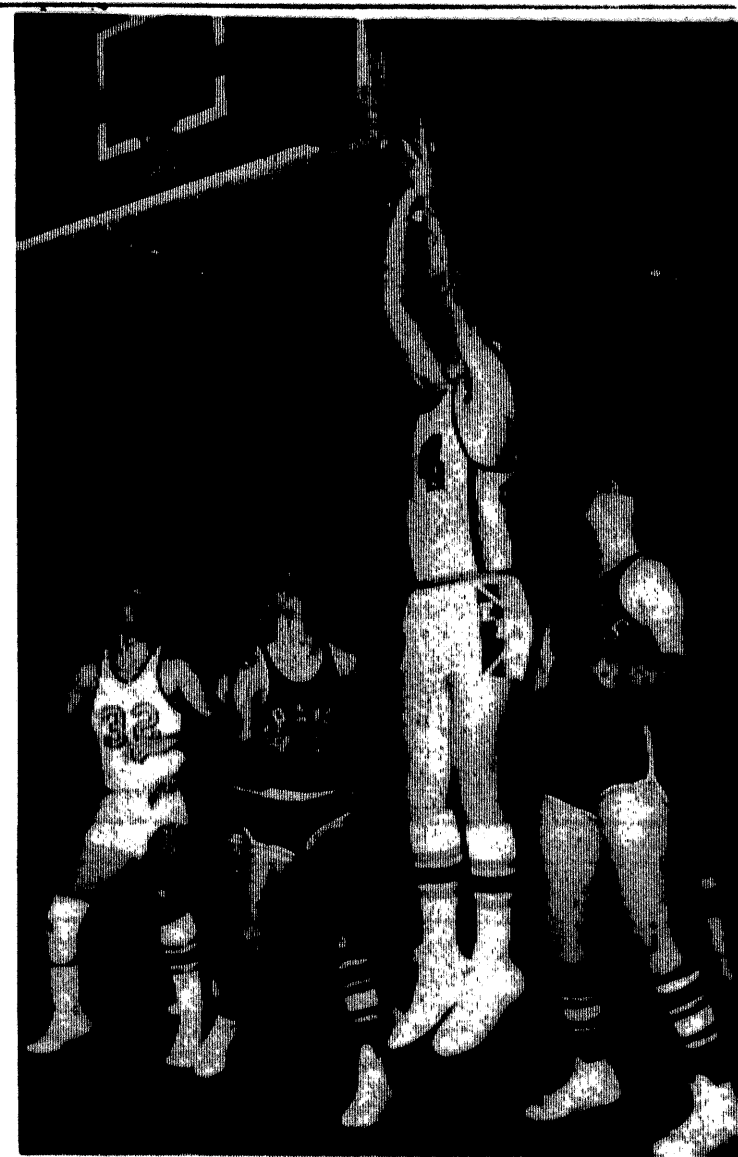

The Braves were hot from the field throughout the game, hitting 28 of 53 field goal attempts for 53 per cent, while Holy Name hit on 28 of 75 shots from the outside for 37 per cent. The difference in the score came at the free throw line where Gladstone made 16 of 26 attempts and Holy Name dropped in 11 of 22.

Radatz Sparkles During Tiger Intrasquad Game

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Monster took his first giant step Wednesday and with a couple more he may make the journey from Toledo to Detroit.

Dick Radatz, relief specialist who was nicknamed the Monster when he pitched for the Boston Red Sox, retired the 12 batters he faced as the Detroit Tigers played their second intrasquad game of the spring training season.

A year ago Radatz threw 26 balls in a row during a similar game with the Chicago Cubs and ended up with Toledo, Detroit's International League farm club.

"If I throw like I did today but with a little more velocity there's a place for me with the Tigers," he said.

Manager Mayo Smith also was pleased with the performance of the Detroit native.

"He threw the ball pretty good," Smith said. "He was free and loose."

Radatz broke in with Boston

in 1962 and led the American League that year in games played as a pitcher (62). He won 31 games in the next two years, none as a starter. And in 1964 he set an AL record for most games finished (67) and most wins as a relief pitcher (16). But he went downhill after that as he lost his control and with it his confidence.

Radatz was in the minor leagues all last year and much of 1967. He started the '67 season with Chicago of the National League and was with Cleveland of the AL for a while before that.

At Toledo last year he had a 6-7 won-loss record and a 2.73 earned run average and, although not on Detroit's 40-man spring training roster this year, the 32-year-old hurler was invited to work out with the team in his comeback bid.

"I wouldn't be here unless I thought I could make it," said the 6-foot-6, 255-pound righthander. "I've regained my control and

I have my confidence back. "I've got to be optimistic, I can't be pessimistic."

Seven other pitchers took 15-minute turns during the game and because of the unusual and continual lineup changes there was no practical way to keep score.

John Hiller started, followed by Elroy Face, John Wyatt, Radatz, Bob Reed, Mike Kilkenny, George Korman and Jim Foor. Reed is from Flint, Mich. Hiller allowed seven runs during his turn but Smith said he was throwing well. Most of the runs were unearned. Smith also praised the throwing of Wyatt and Face.

Meanwhile, Smith said Joe Sparma, Tom Timmerman and Les Cain would pitch in the exhibition opener Friday against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Bradenton. He also said he would mix up the regular Tigers with some of the rookies in the game.

Willie Horton, the lone Tiger holdout, did not report to Lakeland Wednesday, but general manager Jim Campbell conferred with Horton's attorney, Nate Conyers, who arrived Tuesday night. Horton is seeking $100,000 an estimated raise of $60,000 over his salary last year when he hit 36 home runs, drove in 85 runs and had a .285 batting average.

"He's a good friend of mine and he knows I'm not a good golfer," Kaline said Wednesday after a brief spring training workout. "When I asked him what I could do to improve my golf game, he said 'stay off the course.'"

It was a costly defeat for the Knicks, dropping them 1 1/2 games behind second-place

Philadelphia in the East and leaving them 4 1/2 behind front-running Baltimore.

The Bulls shot accurately and controlled the boards as they whipped Milwaukee and edged past idle San Diego. Jerry Sloan fired Chicago with 43 points while John McGlocklin had 38 for the losers.

The Bulls built a 17-point lead in the first period but had to pull away again after the Bucks cut it to 74-70 midway through the third quarter.

Baltimore wiped out a 10-point San Francisco lead in the fourth period as Earl Monroe scored 18 of his 42 points in the quarter. But Jeff Mullins' basket put the Warriors ahead again, this time for good.

Nate Thurmond led the winners with 34 and Mullins added 28.

The usually calm, sophisticated people of Boston jumped like ten tribes of Hippies, and then deluged the hockey ring with dozens of hats, shoes, and even playing cards.

Their star, Phil Esposito, drove them to joy when he made two assists, setting a National Hockey League record and enabling Boston to catch up with the Detroit 2-2 Wednesday night.

Gordie Howe's goal and assist for Detroit was lost by Esposito's 62nd and 63rd assists of the season.

Elsewhere Wednesday, Chicago's Bobby Hull scored twice and got his 50th goal as the Black Hawks tied the New York Rangers 4-4, Toronto downed Los Angeles 6-4. Pittsburgh dropped St. Louis 4-2, and Minnesota tagged Oakland 5-2.

The Detroit-Boston tie kept the third place Red Wings one point ahead of New York and three ahead of Toronto in the NHL's Eastern Division scramble. Boston is in first. Chicago is in last place, seven points back of Detroit.

Alex Delvecchio's 15-footer just as a two-man advantage was ending gave Detroit a 1-0 lead at 17:3 of the first period.

Esposito, the NHL's first 100 point scorer, took a long pass from John McKenzie and passed to Johnny Bucyk who scored at 1:4 of the second period.

Howe notched his 38th goal of the season at 1:02 of the third period. But at 6:02, Esposito passed to John McKenzie for the tying goal.

Esposito's feat broke the record of 62 assists set by Chicago's Stan Mikita in 1966-67. A total of 14,659 Boston fans watched the game.

Hull got 50 goals for the fourth time in his 12-year career.

His 50 goals this season gave him 464 for his career and third place on the all-time list, two ahead of Montreal's Jean Beliveau. Only Maurice Richard of Montreal, who scored 544 in 18 seasons, and Detroit's Gordie Howe, who has 726 in 23 seasons, have more career goals than Hull.

Hull's two goals against the Rangers twice tied the score with the record 50th coming at 1:43 of the third period. Then Chico Maki put the Hawks on top but Don Marshall tied it for New York with only 71 seconds left to play.

The only other 50-goal scorers in NHL history were Richard, who had 50 in 50 games in 1944-45 and Bernie Goffron of Montreal, who had 50 in 64 games in 1960-61.

All-State Star Picks Spartans

OWOSSO (AP)—All-state quarterback Brad Van Pelt of Owasco High School has decided to enter Michigan State University. Van Pelt, a 6-foot-4 215-pounder, chose MSU from among several schools bidding for his services.

DeMolay Meet In Marquette

More than 300 young men will attend an all Upper Peninsula convocation of the International Order of DeMolay in the Masonic Temple at Marquette on Saturday, starting with registration at 2:00 p.m. Participating in this event will be George A. Shaw Chapter, it was announced by Master Councillor Pete Cockram of Manistique.

Knox Heads Health Board

James Knox of Alger County was elected chairman of the new Alger-Schoolcraft Board of Health at the first meeting of the board in Manistique recently.

Thurman Skarritt, chairman of the Schoolcraft Board of Supervisors Health Committee, was elected vice-chairman.

The Board consists of three members from the Boards of Supervisors of both Alger and Schoolcraft counties. Eugene Niemi and George Chudacoff are Alger County representatives while Edward Jorgenson and Ernest Hoholik join Skarritt in representing Schoolcraft County.

Mrs. Cecil Keller, office manager of the health department in Manistique; Dr. Gordon Eadie, director of the Alger-Schoolcraft, Luce Mackinnac Associated Health Dept., and Amalia Krause, director of nurses for the four-county department also attended the first meeting.

Miss Krause and Dr. Eadie outlined purposes and functions of the Health Department, stressing that more and more duties and responsibilities are given by the state legislature to local departments. Dr. Eadie reported that he is hopeful that the four-county department will soon have an administrative assistant who will relieve him of much of the routine administrative work and make it possible to do much more in public health education and program development.

Mrs. Keller gave the financial report for the year 1968, indicating that the Department operated "in the black." It is also anticipated that the department will continue to remain solvent during 1969, she said.

The Director stated that for the second year it is hoped that a children's dental clinic may be held in Marquette, serving Marquette and Alger counties. About 150 children from Alger will be serviced. It was reported that the Alger County Board of Supervisors had appropriated $500 for the expenses of this clinic.

Dog immunization clinics for rabies are planned for both Alger and Schoolcraft counties, probably in April. Representatives of the counties will be present also to license dogs at that time.

Dr. Eadie described the new state law requiring that all food establishments be licensed. Through the efforts of Boyd Briggs, sanitarian for Alger and Schoolcraft counties, both counties as well as the cities of Manistique and Munising now have licensing programs.

It was announced that Glenn Bignall of Manistique will assist Briggs in the inspection of food establishments and other sanitary work in the two counties this summer.

The Director stated that again in both counties this summer the topical fluoride application to children's teeth and gums will be conducted. The fee will be kept at $3 per child. The Lions Club and others are being asked to help make this possible through their contributions.

Germfask

Rev. Allen Parks of Newberry and Grace Lutheran Men's Club members, Warren Anderson and Frank Watson attended a budget subsidy review meeting with the executive secretary of missions for the Michigan District held at Gaylord.

Mr. and Mrs. Ling Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Crawn and granddaughter Valerina Swisher and George Zellar attended the Luce-West Mackinac County Soil Conservation meeting held at the township hall at Engadine, Saturday.

The PTA held a regular meeting Monday night at the Germfask Elementary School. The room prize went to Mrs. Christine Peters' room. Mrs. Howard Hartman and Mrs. Duane Lawrence were on the refreshment committee for the evening. The next PTA meeting will be held on March 17. The Seney Wildlife Refuge manager will talk on conservation and youth.

A Community Action meeting was held last week at the Germfask School.

Miss Agnes Hudson was hostess to the Happy Hour Club at a meeting held at her home Thursday evening. The evening's project was making fancy kitchen magnets.

Mrs. Joyce Miller was hostess at a meeting of the 500 Club held at her home Friday afternoon. High score was won by Mrs. Marguerite Burns and second was Mrs. Dianne Gilman.

A meeting of Germfask-Seney Senior Citizens was held Sunday afternoon at the Germfask School. Plans are being made to hold a Homecoming here July 26 and 27.

Expense Of Lay Teachers Hurting Private Schools

By A. F. MAHAN
LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Association of Non-Public Schools, campaigning to win state aid for nonpublic schools, estimates that without financial assistance as many as 50 to 75 parochial schools may either have to close or curtail operations next fall.

The association reports 41 non-public schools have closed since the 1964-65 school year. There were 975 then, compared with 934 now.

Cost of maintenance and supplies have been rising, along with the cost of living for tuition-paying parents. Fewer people are dedicating their lives to their faiths, and the number of nuns and other nonsalaried secretaries utilized as teachers has been declining.

To continue, more and more lay teachers have been employed by parochial schools, which insist they must offer "competitive salaries and fringe benefits" to attract competent, state-certified lay teachers.

Ratio Changes
Some 10 years ago, the Michigan Catholic Conference estimates the ratio of religious teachers to lay teachers in the state's Catholic schools was about 80-20, but that it now is 52-48, and that next fall lay teachers will outnumber teaching nuns and priests.

This year there are 4,678 nuns and 4,388 lay teachers. In 1958-59 there were 5,282 nuns to 1,373 lay teachers.

Some parochial foes have suggested a recruiting campaign for nuns as an answer.

The Michigan Association of Non-Public Schools is headquartered in the Michigan Catholic Conference building in Lansing. Its president is Dr. John F. Choitz, president of Michigan Lutheran College in Detroit.

Members of the association include five Roman Catholic dioceses of Michigan, the National Union of Christian Schools (Calvinists) and the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

Overstating Case
Opponents of parochial education accuse the association and other proponents of state assistance with overstating their case to bring pressure on the Legislature.

A group known as "Catholics Against Parochialism" has been organized in the Detroit area under leadership of Clyde McQueen, a teacher in Southfield public schools, and Maurice Geary, a controversial Catholic priest on leave from the Detroit archdiocese.

McQueen says he thinks support of parochialism "is divisive and... contrary to the spirit of cooperation" that the Second Vatican Council directed. He also says he finds Catholics in opposition are "a little bit afraid to speak out."

The leading organization in the campaign against parochialism is Citizens to Advance Public Education (CAPE), which is headed by Mrs. Harriet Phillips, a Huntington Woods housewife who is Jewish.

"Master Plan"
CAPE has the support of the Michigan chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, headed by Ernest Mazey of Detroit, a brother of Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers Union.

Mrs. Phillips charged at a recent news conference that "a secret master plan" has been set up to influence action on parochialism in the Legislature.

Among other things, she said the "master plan" was followed by a Joint Legislative Committee to Study Non-Public Schools in the data on which it made a report favorable to parochialism.

Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, denied details of his committee's work was leaked, adding that "generally, it was no secret anyway." He also heatedly denied that his committee was "stacked" to favor parochialism or followed any "master plan."

Mrs. Phillips conceded she did not know who prepared the "secret plan" or when it was prepared. She told the news conference CAPE's primary objections to parochialism is that it would take money from public schools and violates constitutional separation of church and state in CAPE's view.

Move Unthinkable
Some on either side of the dispute have suggested closing of all parochial, nonpublic schools as a solution, but Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton, vicar general of the Archdiocese of Detroit, says "it is silly even to think of it."

"We face a condition, not a theory," Bishop Gumbleton said. "Education in Michigan has grown up in the pattern we have today, and moving 315,000 non-public school pupils into already overcrowded and understaffed public schools is unthinkable."

Another organization campaigning for parochialism is Citizens for Educational Freedom (CEF), headed by Dr. John Vandenberg of Grand Rapids, who says parents have a right to choose the kind of education they want for their children... and society the right to an accounting of how its educational tax dollars are spent."

In opposing parochialism, the Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals, said: "Any law which is based upon wide public support for narrow, specialized ends must be defeated for the continuance of the traditions that have attracted millions of enslaved souls to the shores of this land."

And so the controversy heats up.

Common Prayer Asks Tolerance

NEW YORK (AP) — A common prayer pleading for religious and racial tolerance has been adopted by leaders of New York's Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths.

The prayer, to be read in churches and synagogues beginning Friday, calls for divine guidance "to make us know there is no place for hatred, bigotry, racism, overt or subtle."

It was adopted as a result of findings that the city suffered from an "appalling" amount of racial prejudice and anti-Semitism.

The prayer reads in part: "Make us a band of brothers; let not the spirit of citadels and fortresses lock us into narrow groups, suspicious, distrustful..."

"Help us to talk to each other, to understand, to trust, to love, to work together..."

Guard us against making any verbal or mental slight or insult, gross or sophisticated, against any person or group..."

Hermansville Legion Meeting

The Leo Floriano American Legion Post 340 met at the Camp Seven Legion Clubrooms Thursday evening. Commander Earle F. Kohler, Jr., presided.

Plans were completed for the 50th anniversary banquet of the American Legion to be held at the Post clubrooms on Saturday, March 22. Lester Johnson and Woodrow Trudell are chairmen of the event. Present membership of the Legion is 80 paid up members.

The Legion voted to contribute a gift certificate for clothing to the Roger Faccio family. The next meeting will be held at the Faithorn Township Fire Hall on March 13. Movies are on the program.

Mudslide Covers Active Oil Field

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — A mudslide is oozing over one of California's most active oil fields. Already it has plugged 12 producing oil wells.

The slide was endangering some buildings of a $1-million gasoline plant on the School Canyon field owned by Getty Oil Co. A spokesman said about 1,000 barrels a day worth $5,000 are being lost to the slide, believed caused by recent heavy rains.

Nursing Care For Heart Patient

EAST LANSING (AP) — Two one-day conferences for licensed practical nurses on the care of heart patients are scheduled for March 10 and at Michigan State University.

The Michigan Licensed Practical Nurses Association is sponsoring the talks in connection with the MSU nursing school.

Liz Taylor Given Medical Tests

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor postponed a Mexico vacation and is undergoing extensive tests and X-rays in an effort to end continuing back pains. She was admitted to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Wednesday night.

Dr. Rex Kennamer, Miss Taylor's physician, said she has a "degenerating disc" in her spine as a result of an operation several years ago to fuse two discs.

With her actor husband, Richard Burton, Miss Taylor has been in Beverly Hills while completing work on a film. Their plans to return to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, were postponed indefinitely.

'Spider's' Walls Suited For Job

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The outside skin of the lunar module—America's vehicle for landing men on the moon—is so flimsy a man could push a foot through it, but it's perfect for the job it has to do.

Its outer skin is made of many layers of an aluminum cellophane-like material formed into a blanket and taped to the spacecraft.

The skin is not strong enough to stand the pressures of flying in an atmosphere, but it performs well in outer space.

Chunks of the material peeled off the lunar module Wednesday when the Apollo 9 crew fired its engine but Air Force Col. David A. Scott said the pieces appeared to be only a few inches in size.

Space officials said this small loss would not affect the thermal stability of the spacecraft.

The thermal blanket was designed to keep the temperatures inside the lunar module constant. It protects the astronauts from the wide ranges of space temperatures, which can dip to minus 250 degrees in the shade and hit 250 degrees in the sun.

Seney

Frank Riordan and Jim Cornell of Detroit visited here on Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Riordan.

Mrs. Norman Nelson has returned to her home from the Helen Newberry Joy Hospital and is convalescing.

Mrs. Clara Boonenberg has returned from a short visit with relatives at Marquette.

The Seney-Germfask Senior Citizens Club met Thursday evening at the Seney Townhall with 20 persons present. Meetings will be held every two weeks.

Mrs. Bob Wetterlin and boys traveled to Stevens Point over the weekend.

J. J. Riordan traveled to Trout Lake on Saturday where he visited his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Riordan.

The thermal blanket was designed to keep the temperatures inside the lunar module constant. It protects the astronauts from the wide ranges of space temperatures, which can dip to minus 250 degrees in the shade and hit 250 degrees in the sun.

Liz Taylor Given Medical Tests

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor postponed a Mexico vacation and is undergoing extensive tests and X-rays in an effort to end continuing back pains. She was admitted to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Wednesday night.

Dr. Rex Kennamer, Miss Taylor's physician, said she has a "degenerating disc" in her spine as a result of an operation several years ago to fuse two discs.

With her actor husband, Richard Burton, Miss Taylor has been in Beverly Hills while completing work on a film. Their plans to return to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, were postponed indefinitely.

Seney

Frank Riordan and Jim Cornell of Detroit visited here on Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Riordan.

Mrs. Norman Nelson has returned to her home from the Helen Newberry Joy Hospital and is convalescing.

Mrs. Clara Boonenberg has returned from a short visit with relatives at Marquette.

The Seney-Germfask Senior Citizens Club met Thursday evening at the Seney Townhall with 20 persons present. Meetings will be held every two weeks.

Mrs. Bob Wetterlin and boys traveled to Stevens Point over the weekend.

J. J. Riordan traveled to Trout Lake on Saturday where he visited his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Riordan.

How do we do it?

We take shelltan, golden brown and beefy. And rub it by hand to make it even more supple. Stain it 'til it gets antiqued. Brush it to a special finish. (A finish that has the depth of expensive, hand rubbed wood.) Mold it into a moc slip-on. Give it the handsewn treatment. And we polish it off.

The bronze look and deep dark texture of costly wood. Thom McAn's GUNSTOCK. A new old-looking way to pamper your feet. And all this luxury is at a practical price.
